LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., July 18, 1962.

DEAR MR. SECRETARY:

I am transmitting the Statistics of Income—1959-60, U. S. Business Tax Returns. This report was prepared in partial fulfillment of the requirements of section 6108 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 which specifies that statistics be prepared annually with respect to the operation of the income tax laws. The statistics in this volume are taken from the returns filed by sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations, for accounting periods ended July 1959 through June 1960.

This report shows detailed business income and expense data for sole proprietorships and partnerships. It also contains information about the methods sole proprietors and partners use to compute depreciation. In addition, detailed statistics from partnership balance sheets are included. Corporation data are shown that complement the statistics for sole proprietorships and partnerships. However, corporation data in much greater detail are published in the report entitled, Statistics of Income—1959-60, Corporation Income Tax Returns.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue

HON. DOUGLAS DILLON,
Secretary of the Treasury.

U.S. BUSINESS TAX RETURNS, 1959-60

Summarized in this report are financial statistics for 11,165,875 business organizations: 9,142,359 sole proprietorships, 949,396 partnerships, and 1,074,120 corporations. The statistics were derived from samples of unaudited income tax and information returns filed for accounting periods ended July 1959 through June 1960. The report shows, for each legal form of organization, the number of businesses, receipts, and profits classified by industry, by size of business receipts, and by size of net profit. Sole proprietorship business expenses, depreciation methods, inventory reporting patterns and cost of goods sold data are shown in detail. The partnership section of the report features inventory reporting patterns, depreciation methods, detailed statistics for cost of goods sold and, for the first time since 1953-54, balance sheet data for selected industries. Corporation data complement the statistics presented for sole proprietorships and partnerships.

Chart 1 of this report relates the number of firms to the business receipts reported by each type of business organization. Chart 2 and table A show the use of each type of business organization by industrial division. Table B provides national totals from the returns these three types of business organizations filed in two recent income periods: accounting periods ended July 1959 through June 1960 and July 1958 through June 1959. For these two recent periods tables C, D, and E provide summary data for each type of business organization by industrial division.

BUSINESS RECEIPTS

During 1959-60, business receipts for the three forms of business organizations exceeded $1,000,000,000. Unincorporated business receipts approximated $253,000,000,000, corporation receipts, $773,000,000,000. Business receipts of most firms represent payments received mainly from the sale of products and services. Receipts flowing from these sources to the three forms of business organizations are summarized in table F by industrial division.

Where receipts from rents, interest, dividends, or other investment income are substantial in amount, as they are for corporations engaged in financial activities, "Total compiled receipts" provides another measure of gross payments. This measure is included in the basic tables in the corporations section of this report, and defined more fully in the "Explanation of Terms."

PROFITS

Net profit for the three forms of business organization was $77,000,000,000 in 1959-60, an increase of approximately $10,000,000,000 over 1958-59.

Table G shows net profit totals for each form of business in each industrial division. Of the net profit reported for unincorporated businesses, Service industries had 36 percent and firms in Trade had 27 percent of reported profits. More than half the net profit reported by corporations was in Manufacturing.

Net profit data for the three forms of business organizations are not strictly comparable. For sole proprietorships, net profit represents the owners entire return from the enterprise. Net profit for active partnerships is in addition to compensation in the form of guaranteed payments to partners for services and capital; and wages and salaries of corporate employees, some of whom may be stockholders, are deducted in arriving at net income. For further clarification of these differences, see the paragraphs on net income (or deficit) and net profit (or loss) in the section on "Explanation of Terms" and the instructions for completing a schedule C and return Forms 1065 and 1120 reproduced in the back of this report.

DEPRECIATION

Depreciation claimed by sole proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations was $29,500,000,000 during 1959-60. Of this amount, unincorporated businesses claimed $9,000,000 while corporations claimed $20,500,000,000 or approximately 69 percent. Within the unincorporated segment, approximately $7,000,000,000 in depreciation was claimed by sole proprietorships and $2,000,000,000 by active partnerships. Text table H contains summary depreciation data derived from the returns of each type of business organization, by industrial division for accounting periods ended July 1959 through June 1960.

This report contains new data about the methods used by sole proprietorships and partnerships to compute the amount of depreciation claimed. The data are summarized in tables I and J. More complete information about depreciation methods used by sole proprietorships is contained in basic tables 6, 7, and 8. For active partnerships, the new data about depreciation methods are shown in basic tables 23, 24, and 25.

In the section containing the description of the statistical sample, table T contains estimates of the numbers of sole proprietorship and partnership returns showing depreciation by industrial division. Associated with each frequency estimate is a measure of its sampling variability.

INVENTORY

End-of-year inventory reported by the three forms of business organization totaled $105,000,000,000. Unincorporated firms held inventories valued at approximately $16,000,000,000, mainly in stocks used in Wholesale and retail trade. Manufacturing corporations held $55,000,000,000 of the $88,000,000,000 total inventory investment shown on corporation returns. Tables 4, 18, and 30 contain information about inventory reporting patterns, that is whether inventory data are reported at both beginning- and end-of-year, beginning-of-year only, and end-of-year only. Adjustments have not been made to these data to correct for any underreporting of inventories on the return forms.

OTHER NEW DATA

Estimates of the amount of depletion claimed by unincorporated businesses, and the amortization claimed by sole proprietorships, are summarized in text table K by industrial division. The data appearing in this text table are estimates of the total depletion and amortization shown as a business deduction on the first page of schedule C or Form 1065. A copy of each, and the instructions for completing schedule C and Form 1065 are reproduced in the back of the report.

The extent to which farmers who filed schedule F used the cash or accrual accounting method in computing their income is indicated in table L. The accrual method was used in only 3 percent of these schedules.

BALANCE SHEET DATA

The balance sheet information in this report was prepared only for partnership and corporation returns. Sole proprietorships are not required to file balance sheets. Only 44 percent of 1959-60 partnership returns contained balance sheet information. Table 17 in the partnership section shows the number and percentage of partnerships in each industry that reported balance sheet data. On the other hand, most corporations include their balance sheets as part of the return and estimates were made for the relatively few corporations on which balance sheet information was incomplete.

SMALL BUSINESS CORPORATIONS

In 1959-60, for the first time, the number of active corporation returns edged over the million mark. Included in the total were 71,140 Form 1120-S returns filed by corporations electing to have corporation profits taxed at the shareholder level. The provisions of the Technical Amendments Act of 1958 which authorized the election of shareholders to have corporate profits taxed directly at the shareholder level became effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1957. Therefore, 1959-60, which covers accounting periods ended July 1959 through June 1960, represents the first complete set of twelve reporting periods for which Form 1120-S returns could be filed. In order to qualify for filing a return under subchapter S of this Act, a corporation must:

1. Be a domestic corporation with no more than ten shareholders.
2. Be owned entirely by shareholders who are individuals (or estates). Shareholders may not be nonresident aliens.
3. Have only one class of stock.
4. Not be a member of an affiliated group eligible to file a consolidated return.
5. Not receive more than 20 percent of its gross receipts from personal holding company income (rents, royalties, dividends, interest, annuities, and gains from sales or exchanges of stock or securities).
6. Not receive more than 80 percent of its gross receipts from sources outside the United States.

Industry, asset size and year of incorporation data relating to Small Business Corporations are shown on tables 32, 33, and 34.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION

The industrial classification used for all Statistics of Income reports conforms to the 1957 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual developed by the Office of Statistical Standards, Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President.

The Standard Industrial Classification was developed for use in the classification of establishments by type of activity in which engaged, to facilitate the collection, tabulation, presentation, and analysis of data relating to establishments, and for promoting uniformity and comparability in the presentation of statistical data collected by various agencies of the United States Government, State agencies, trade associations, and private research organizations.

The Standard Industrial Classification has been applied to a legal entity or ownership basis for the Statistics of Income series. The definitions in the Standard Industrial Classification were used. Certain combinations were appropriate since the Standard Industrial Classification contains more than 900 industries. For this report, these are combined to form 76 industrial groups for sole proprietorships, 69 for partnerships, and 60 for corporations. The industry classifications for unincorporated businesses are most detailed in the trade and service industries. Corporation classifications provide greater detail in the Manufacturing division.

Each return or schedule is classified according to the business activity accounting for the largest percentage of all receipts. For example, although a corporation may have numerous activities, the data for each return are attributed to a single activity which meets the above criterion. Each sole proprietorship is classified separately according to each business schedule. Two or more businesses in the same industry, however, reported on separate schedules by a single taxpayer, are combined as one. Partnership returns are classified by the major activity of the partnership.

CHANGES IN TAX LEGISLATION

The few provisions of the Life Insurance Company Income Tax Act of 1959 which did not become effective until January 1, 1959, are the only changes in law significant to the statistics in this report. Most of the provisions of the Act were retroactive to the 1958 income tax returns of life insurance companies.

The provisions which were not effective until 1959 include: the reporting and taxation of capital gains; the taxation of withdrawals from untaxed underwriting income set aside by stock life insurance companies under section 815 of the Internal Revenue Code; a partial exemption from tax of income from pension plan reserves; and a tax adjustment resulting from the required changeover to an accrual method of accounting.

SOURCES OF DATA

Returns and Schedules Used

Sole proprietorships.—Data in these published tables relate to businesses and professions carried on by individuals reporting on the business schedule C, the farm schedule F, or the taxpayer's equivalent schedule attached to return Form 1040 for the income year 1959-60. The accounting period ran primarily from January 1 to December 31, 1959, with some noncalendar year exceptions. An individual income tax return must be filed by every citizen and resident alien who receives $600 or more gross income ($1,200 if over 65 years of age) and by every person subject to the self-employment tax who had self-employment income of $400 or more.

Active partnerships.—A partnership is not taxed as a legal entity, but an information return Form 1065 must be filed. Each partner is taxed, however, on his distributive share of the total partnership income, whether or not the distribution has actually been made. As defined in the Internal Revenue Code, a partnership can be a syndicate, joint venture, pool, or other unincorporated business organization which carries on any business or venture and which is not, within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Code, a trust, estate, or corporation.

Active corporation returns.—Domestic and resident foreign corporations, except charitable and other civic and business organizations expressly exempt from taxation under section 501 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, must file income tax returns, whether or not they transacted business during the current year. Corporation data were obtained from returns in the Form 1120 series, i.e., 1120, 1120-L, 1120-M, and 1120-S, filed by active nonexempt corporations. The number of such returns differs from the total number of corporations in existence for two reasons: first, inactive corporations are not included in the figures in this report, and second, the effects of the consolidated filing privilege. The Internal Revenue Code permits affiliated groups of corporations to file one consolidated return, combining all income, expenses, and balance sheet data on that return. For 1959-60 there were 14,951 subsidiaries listed on 4,060 returns filed by parent corporations. No attempt is made in this report to determine income and expense components of subsidiaries.

Description of the Sample

A description of the statistical sample used to develop the estimates is contained in a separate section. Also described are the limitations that must be applied when analyzing these data.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Where different terms are used on return forms and schedules to describe items similar in nature, a common term is used in this report to denote these items. One such term is "business receipt" which applies to "total receipts" on the business schedule for Form 1040, "gross receipts" on the partnership Form 1065, and "gross sales" and "gross receipts" on the corporate Form 1120. Another is "net profit" for sole proprietorships and partnerships, and "net income" for corporations, which, though treated as comparable for purposes of this report, are not precisely so. The return forms and related instructions are reproduced on later pages in this report and marked to indicate the sources of the data. The following explanations are designed to aid the reader in interpreting the statistical content of the report and should not be construed as interpretations of the Internal Revenue Code.

Accounts payable

These are short-term liabilities, consisting primarily of obligations created by the purchase of merchandise, supplies, or services.

Advertising

A deduction for promotional activities directed toward the sale of goods and services in the course of the business activity.

Amortization

The law makes special provisions for amortization of the following kinds of assets and expenditures:

- (a) Emergency facilities - Section 168
- (b) Grain facilities - Section 169
- (c) Research and experimental expenditures - Section 174
- (d) Exploration expenditures - Section 615
- (e) Development expenditures - Section 616
- (f) Organizational expenditures - Section 248
- (g) Trademark and trade-name expenditures - Section 177

Bad debt

A business bad debt may be deducted when there is reasonable certainty that it is uncollectible, or a reasonable deduction may be taken through an addition to a reserve for bad debts. Taxpayers may elect either method. Once selected, however, the approval of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is necessary to effect a change. A debt which is deducted as bad, if subsequently collected, must be reported as income for the year in which collected.

Business receipts

Sole proprietorships.—This is the total receipts from sales and services less allowances, rebates, and returns. Total receipts do not include long- or short-term capital gains or losses, nor do they include investment income not associated with the taxpayer's business.

Partnerships.—This is computed as gross receipts or gross sales less returns and allowances. A portion of the income of partnerships engaged in finance, insurance, and real estate activities is not reflected in their business receipts because separate entries for investment income are provided on Form 1065. (See definition of Total receipts.)

Corporation returns.—This is computed from gross receipts less returns and allowances. Throughout the Finance division, business receipts itemized on the return were included in specific income items (e.g., interest, rents) with the exception of rent reported by real estate operators, which was treated as business receipts.

Capital gain (or loss)

In computing the capital gain (or loss) from the sale of capital assets, these assets are defined to include all property held except: (1) property properly included in inventory, or held primarily for sale in the ordinary course of trade or business; (2) depreciable and real property used in trade or business; (3) accounts and notes receivable acquired in the course of trade or business for services rendered or from sale of property (included in item (1) above); (4) any nonforeign government obligations issued on or after March 1, 1941, on a discount basis and payable without interest at a fixed maturity date not exceeding one year from date of issue; and (5) certain copyrights, literary, musical or artistic compositions or similar properties. Net capital gain from the sale or exchange of property used in trade or business may be treated as flowing from capital assets under the provisions of section 1231. Net losses resulting from such transactions are to be treated as ordinary losses. The same reasoning applies to property which undergoes an involuntary conversion. Casualty losses on uninsured property or capital assets are excluded in determining gain or loss from involuntary conversions; i.e., these losses are ordinary losses, and do not have to be netted against gains under section 1231.

Losses from sale or exchange of capital assets are allowed only to the extent of capital gains; but a net capital loss, reduced by capital gains in intervening years, may be carried over to the five succeeding taxable years, or back for three years.

Sole proprietorships by definition, can have no capital gain or loss. The sole proprietor is concerned only with property directly involved in the business process. Capital gains or losses on transactions not in the course of business attributable to the sole proprietor as an individual, would be reported as such.

Partnerships set aside capital gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets or property. Each partner includes his distributive share of the capital gain or loss in his own individual return (Form 1040).

Long-term versus short-term capital gain or loss.—Capital gains and losses are considered long-term if the capital assets were held for more than six months prior to the sale of same. Short-term capital gains result from the sale (or exchange) of capital assets held six months or less. Both short-term and long-term losses are deductible from long-term gains when computing the alternative tax (Code section 1201).

Casualty loss

This deduction is for loss due to a sudden, unusual, or unexpected cause. The amount of loss deductible is limited to the difference between the value of the property immediately prior to the casualty and the value of the property immediately after the casualty—the difference being reduced by the insurance coverage which may have been in effect.

Charitable contributions or gifts

Deductions for charitable contributions are allowed on the corporation returns but sole proprietorships and partnerships are not permitted to take this as a business deduction. However, as individuals, on Form 1040, they are allowed this deduction.

For corporations, deductions for charitable contributions are limited by law to 5 percent of the net income (before this deduction). The deduction may include a carryover of excess contributions from the two preceding years. No contributions or gifts are reported for tax purposes by mutual insurance companies since, by law, they report only investment expenses.

Cost of goods sold

This amount is derived from costs most directly connected with the primary operation of the business. It is computed by adding to the opening inventory, the value of merchandise purchased, labor, material and supply costs and deducting from the total the end-of-year inventories.

Depletable assets

This figure represents, in general, the gross value of mineral property, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits, standing timber, and also leases and leaseholds, each subject to depletion. Accumulated depletion shown as an adjustment to depletable assets, represents the cumulative decrease in asset value as of the end of the year.

Depletion

The Internal Revenue Code authorizes a deduction from income for depletion of a wasting asset such as a mineral deposit, or a stand of timber, to recover its cost. Owners, operating or not, lessors, or taxpayers holding fractional or overriding royalty interests, all may claim this deduction. There are two basic types of depletion, cost and percentage; no distinction between them is made for this report. The cost method is based on the relationship between the value of the wasting assets "taken out" and the estimated number of units in the deposit. Percentage depletion, which is not applicable to timber, is computed on a percentage of the net income or profit, or on receipts, whichever is smaller. Percentage depletion ordinarily permits recovery of much more than cost. Percentages vary with type of deposit, and are set forth in the Internal Revenue Code.

The depletion allowance is applicable only to income from the extractive process, e.g., no depletion is allowable on the proceeds of the sale of a coal mine.

Depreciable assets

This figure as reported by partnerships and corporations, on the end-of-year balance sheet is, in general, the gross amount of buildings and other fixed depreciable assets. Depreciable property is generally defined as tangible assets, such as plant and equipment having a useful life of more than one year. Included are assets certified as emergency facilities which are eligible for amortization. In some instances, the reported amount includes fully depreciated or fully amortized assets, and assets for which no depreciation deduction has been taken, such as assets under construction.

Depreciation

Deduction of a reasonable allowance is permitted by law, for the exhaustion or wear and tear of property used in a trade or business, or of property held for the production of income. This deduction is a composite amount resulting from the application of the following methods of depreciation allowed by the 1954 Code: straight-line and the accelerated methods such as declining balance and sum of the years-digits. The accelerated methods are applicable, in general, to tangible property acquired after December 31, 1953. Further, an additional first-year depreciation deduction may be taken for new or used property purchased after December 31, 1957.

Gross profit (or gross loss)

Sole proprietorships and partnerships.—This amount is computed from business receipts less cost of goods sold. (See Business receipts and Cost of goods sold.)

Intangible assets

These assets consist of licenses, franchises, patents, copyrights, contracts, and similar assets having a limited useful life. Other intangible assets not having a determined useful life are included in other assets.

Inventory

Inventories are goods on hand held for sale, and raw materials or supplies which will physically become a part of merchandise intended for sale. The main types are: merchandise or stock in trade, raw materials, work in process, finished products, and growing crops reported as assets by agricultural concerns.

There are two common bases for evaluating inventory, both of which are allowable: cost alone; or cost or market value, whichever is lower. Whichever method is used must be applied to both beginning and ending inventory. The cost or market value method, if used, must be applied to each item in inventory, not to aggregates.

The common method of identifying items in inventory at end-of-year is the first-in, first-out method (FIFO). A special method, last-in, first-out (LIFO) may be used subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. It may be used only where inventories are valued by the cost method alone.

The inventories of businesses engaged in providing services generally are ancillary to their principal interest. For example, the physician maintains a stock of supplies, such as medicines, cotton, and tape, which although not held by him for direct sale to patients, are used in treatments. These items may properly be considered inventory.

Net income (or deficit)

Corporations.—This is the difference between gross income subject to tax and ordinary and necessary business deductions. There is generally a considerable disparity between net income and the amount of income subject to tax. Most of this difference results from special statutory deductions which include the net operating loss deduction, deductions for dividends received, the deduction for certain dividends paid by public utilities, the deductions allowed Western Hemisphere trade corporations, and the deduction allowed regulated investment companies for dividends paid.

Net profit (or loss)

Sole proprietorships and partnerships without net profit and corporation returns without net income include those businesses with reported deductions equal to total receipts.

Sole proprietorships.—This amount is the difference between business receipts and the ordinary and necessary business deductions.

Partnerships.—This amount is the difference between total receipts and total deductions.

Long- and short-term capital gains or losses, contributions, certain dividend and interest income, and other income items specified by the tax laws or regulations are not included in the partnership income or profit. Instead, each partner allocates his distributive share of such income to the proper item on his individual income tax return.

Corporation returns.—Compiled net profit or loss is the difference between total compiled receipts and total compiled deductions. (See Total receipts and Total deductions.)

A more comparable figure to sole proprietorships and partnership net profit (or loss) is corporation net income (or deficit).

Nonqualifying dividends

Partnerships.—Data on nonqualifying dividends included in this report are for partnerships only. These are taxable dividends included in total receipts and for which the individual partner is not entitled to a separate exclusion or credit.

Number of business organizations

Sole proprietorships.—This figure is the number of businesses operated by individual owners. If several business schedules are filed with one return, each schedule is classified separately according to industrial activity. Two or more businesses with the same industrial activity are processed as one business. Community property or businesses divided between husband and wife for income tax purposes are considered as a whole and counted as one business. If multiple establishments with identical industrial activities form but one business, it is counted only once to reflect its ownership. The filing of a schedule C or F or equivalent schedule determines that the sole proprietorship is active.

Partnership.—This is the number of active partnerships, not the number of partnership returns. For Statistics of Income, a partnership reporting at least one income or deduction item is considered an active partnership. Duplicate filings are eliminated.

Corporation returns.—These data reflect the number of returns filed for active corporations. For purposes of Statistics of Income, an active corporation return is one on which at least one income or deduction item is reported. A consolidated return filed by an affiliated group of corporations is counted as one return.

Other assets

These include all assets not reported separately on the return forms such as: sinking funds; other funds; deferred charges; suspense items; interest and coupons receivable. In addition to the above, other assets of life insurance companies include market value of real estate and bonds and stocks in excess of book value; premiums due, and agents' balances. Also, other assets of banks include assets held in trust if included in the banks' assets.

Partners' capital accounts

Partners' capital accounts, a balance sheet item, is applicable only to partnerships. It is comparable to a corporation's net worth section (capital stock plus surplus).

Repairs

This deduction includes costs of labor and supplies, and other costs necessary for incidental repairs to the property. It does not pertain to capital expenditures which add to the property value, improvements which appreciably prolong its life, or expenditures for restoring or replacing property.

Taxes paid (or accrued)

State and local taxes paid or accrued on business property or incurred in conducting business are allowable deductions. Also included in the amounts shown are Federal import and excise duties and taxes. excluded, however, are: (1) Federal income and excess profits taxes; (2) estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes; (3) income and profits taxes paid to a foreign country or possession of the United States if any portion were claimed as a tax paid on tax-free covenant bonds; and (4) unidentifiable amounts of taxes reported in cost of sales and operations.

Total assets

Sole proprietorships.—These businesses, unlike partnerships and corporations, are not required to provide balance sheet information.

Partnerships.—The data for total assets are obtained from the balance sheet and are understated since only 44 percent of partnerships reported balance sheet information.

Corporation returns.—These data are obtained from end-of-year balance sheet schedules. The classification of returns with "zero assets" is restricted to (1) returns of liquidating or dissolving corporations which have disposed of all assets and are filing final income tax returns, (2) merging corporations whose assets have been included in the returns of acquiring corporations, and (3) foreign corporations doing business in the United States unless they are foreign insurance companies providing balance sheet information for United States branches.

The classification of returns with "zero assets" is not completely comparable with the classification "assets zero or not reported" which was presented in the 1958-59 statistics. Estimates of balance sheet statistics now include assets and liabilities for the small number of companies which failed to report them in the past. Estimates were based on assets and liabilities shown in statistics for returns of comparable corporations.

The elimination of the nonresponse category makes it possible to drop the distinction formerly made between returns with and without balance sheets.

Total compiled receipts

Corporation returns.—Gross taxable receipts before deduction of cost of goods sold, cost of operations, and net loss from sales of property other than capital assets. The figure also includes nontaxable interest but excludes all other nontaxable income recognized by the corporation.

Total deductions

In this report, total deductions are the ordinary and necessary business deductions permitted by the Internal Revenue Code and reported as such by business.

Total receipts

Sole proprietorships.—Total receipts are from sales and services, less allowances, rebates and returns. Total receipts do not include long- or short-term capital gains or losses, nor do they include investment income not associated with the taxpayer's business. In this report total receipts for sole proprietorships is termed "Business Receipts."

Partnerships.—The sum of business receipts and such income items as interest, rents, nonqualifying dividends and other income. (See Business Receipts.)

Corporation returns.—In this report total receipts is termed "Total Compiled Receipts." (See Total Compiled Receipts.)

¹The "units of production" method showed only 726 businesses and $1.8 million of depreciation for "all industries."
²The total number of businesses with depreciation will be less than the sum of such number by depreciation method because frequently a business will use more than one method to depreciate its assets.
³No reliable estimate of the sampling variability can be obtained from the sample. Data, however, are included in totals.

NOTE: See text for explanatory statements and "Description of the Sample and Limitations of the Data."
 Industry detail does not add to totals which include data for business activities not shown. See Table 1 for complete list of industrial groups.

¹The "units of production" method showed only 726 businesses and $1.8 million (principally from Mining) for "All industry groups."²The total number of businesses with depreciation will be less than the sum of such numbers by depreciation method because frequently a business will use more than one method in depreciating its assets.³No reliable estimate of the sampling variability can be obtained from the sample. Data, however, are included in the totals.

¹The "Units of production" method showed only 726 businesses and $1.8 million (principally from Mining) for "All industry groups."

²The total number of businesses with depreciation will be less than the sum of such numbers by depreciation method because frequently a business will use more than one method in depreciating its assets.

³No reliable estimate of the sampling variability can be obtained from the sample. However, the data are included in the totals.

NOTE: See text for explanatory statements and "Description of the Sample and Limitations of the Data."

¹Inventory data for "Finance, insurance, and real estate" industrial groups are not shown and, with the exception of table 29, are not included in the totals for all industrial groups in this report. Inventory data for "Finance, insurance, and real estate" are shown, however, in Statistics of Income—1959-60 Corporation Income Tax Returns and a description of the treatment of inventory for corporations engaged in finance is given in the "Explanation of Terms" section of that report. The total amount of inventory and the inventory for "Finance, insurance, and real estate," as presented in that report, are shown below:

DESCRIPTION OF THE SAMPLE AND LIMITATIONS OF THE DATA

Description of the Sample

Data presented in this report are based on a systematic stratified sample of unaudited returns and schedules filed for the income year 1959-60, covering accounting periods ended July 1959 through June 1960.

Uniform methods of classifying returns were prescribed for each of the 61 district offices and the International Operations Division in Washington, D. C., to facilitate the administrative processing of returns for collection and audit purposes. A map showing the location of the Internal Revenue Service District offices follows the statistical tables in this section. The sample design was adapted to fit the regular numbering and grouping procedures used by the Service.

Returns of individuals were classified by the presence or absence of business income, size of adjusted gross income, and taxpayment status. Partnerships were classified by size of gross receipts or total income. Returns of corporations were classified by type of return, size of total assets, by taxable and nontaxable status, and by taxpayment status.

An active corporation or partnership, for the purpose of Statistics of Income, is one with at least one income or deduction item reported on the return form. The returns of inactive partnerships and corporations which were excluded numbered less than three percent of the partnership and corporation returns. In addition, data from returns of organizations exempt from tax, filing return forms in the 990 series, are not included in the corporate statistics.

Form 1120 returns filed by partnerships and sole proprietorships electing to be taxed as corporations under section 1361 of the 1954 Code are excluded from all data. This group numbers 445. Tentative returns and those amended returns not associated with their originals are also excluded.

Sole Proprietorships

The total sample, based on individual returns with business income, consisted of 141,406 returns. This constitutes about 1 percent of the estimated total number of 10,135,293 individual income tax returns with schedules C or F or the taxpayer's own equivalent schedules filed.

Individual returns with business income which showed adjusted gross income of $150,000 or more were selected at a one-to-one ratio. Various sampling ratios were prescribed for the other returns included in the sample.

Adjustments were made principally to exclude: (1) schedules C or F filed by partners for the sole purpose of reporting self-employment income; (2) schedules C or F in which Statistics of Income business activity definitions were not met; (3) nonbusiness returns included in the business sample; and (4) also excluded from the sole proprietorship data are returns of fiduciaries reporting trade or business income on Form 1041.

Statistics of Income—1958, Fiduciary, Gift, and Estate Tax Returns includes information on some 26,000 returns of trusts and estates with gross profit (less loss) of $352,000,000 from trade or business.

These adjustments reduced to 9,142,359 the number of sole proprietorships shown in this publication. Table M shows the number of returns filed, the number of returns in the sample, and the prescribed and achieved sampling rates.

Partnerships

About one million partnership returns were filed for income year 1959-60. This estimate is based on the number of returns filed during calendar year 1960 and allows for delinquent filing of partnership returns. An adjustment for duplicate partnership returns, sometimes filed by more than one partner, reduced the total number to 961,247. Included in this number filed are inactive partnership returns from which no data were tabulated. The number of returns in the sample was 76,528.

The returns in the sample were stratified into "small," "medium," and "large" classes, based on the amount of business receipts or total income. After the sample was received in the Statistics Division, the "large" group was subdivided into two parts on the basis of business receipts or total income: (a) $500,000 under $5,000,000, and (b) $5,000,000 or more. For control purposes, partnerships in the "$5,000,000 or more" stratum were identified by name.

The number of returns filed, the number of partnership returns in the sample, and the sampling rate in each stratum are shown in table N.

¹Adjusted for duplicate returns and includes inactive partnership returns.

Corporations

The sample reflects the activities of the total number of domestic and resident foreign corporations filing returns with accounting periods ended July 1959 through June 1960. The total number of returns filed was estimated to be 1,119,700. The number of returns used in the sample was 162,953.

The sample was drawn to represent the total number of returns for the included accounting periods, regardless of when filed. Prior year delinquent returns were included for the purpose of estimating data for returns filed too late to be included. It was felt that the characteristics of returns due but not yet received for the income year 1959-60 could best be represented by sampling the 40,000 previous year delinquent returns which were received during the current year filing period. The total number of returns included about 46,000 returns filed by inactive corporations, although no data were tabulated from them.

Both domestic and foreign corporations must file returns, unless expressly exempt from taxation as charitable and other civic and business associations under section 501 of the Code. By law, a corporation in existence at any time during the year is required to file a return regardless of the size of its income. The term corporation includes associations, joint stock companies, and insurance companies.

A return was due on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the income year. About one-half of all corporations use a noncalendar year accounting period. The filing date for returns with the earliest accounting period covered by this report was on or before October 15, 1959. Returns were due for corporations with the most recent accounting period covered on or before September 15, 1960. However, many corporations are granted extensions of time in which to file, so that the last included returns for the income year were not filed until early 1961.

A return is filed in the Internal Revenue District in which the corporation's principal place of business or principal office is located. The return presents information for all units of the corporation's activities, even though its operations may extend over several States. Therefore, any geographical classification of corporation return data can only indicate where the return was filed and not the place of origin of the income or tax liability.

For 1958-59, stratification by size had been accomplished on the basis of volume of business, that is, by size of gross sales, gross receipts, or total income. The changeover to asset-size stratification resulted in the inclusion in the current year sample of about 16,000 returns filed during 1959 which were stratified according to volume of business. These returns were for the most part returns with accounting periods ended July through November 1959 and accounted for 10 percent of the sample. These returns were allocated to asset-size sample classes based on size of gross sales, gross receipts, or total income. It was felt that this allocation would have coincided with an allocation by size of total assets for a significant number of these returns in most industries. Returns filed during 1960 and 1961 were stratified by asset size and accounted for about 90 percent of the approximately 163,000 sample returns.

The sample rates for each sample class were determined so as to achieve approximate optimum allocation of the sample with respect to total assets reported. The sample design was adapted to fit the regular return sorting and grouping procedures employed by district offices to facilitate the administrative processing of returns for collection and audit purposes. Uniform methods of grouping returns by type of return and by size of total assets were prescribed for each office.

Within each of the groups, returns were assigned consecutive account numbers and the sample was selected systematically by withdrawing from the various groups all returns with designated account number endings. For sampling purposes, these groups were combined into sample classes which can be identified as follows:

Forms 1120, 1120-L, and 1120-M

Sample class A.—Returns with net income or deficit of $1,000,000 or more, or total assets of $10,000,000 or more.

Sample class B.—All of the following special types of returns which were not included in sample class A: consolidated returns, returns with personal holding company schedules attached, life and mutual insurance company returns, and returns with overpayment of tax. In addition, other returns with net income or deficit under $1,000,000 and total assets of $1,000,000 under $10,000,000.

Sample class C.—Returns, other than the special return types described under sample class B, with total assets of $100,000 under $1,000,000 in the case of current year returns, and with total assets either under $1,000,000 or not reported in the case of prior year delinquent returns.

Sample class D.—Current year returns, other than the special return types described under sample class B, with total reported assets greater than zero but less than $100,000.

Sample classes E and F.—Current year returns, other than the special return types described under sample class B, which showed assets zero or not reported. After sampling in accordance with prescribed sampling rates, returns were separated into class E (active corporation returns) and class F (inactive corporation returns). In order to provide estimates of assets for returns of active corporations whose assets were not reported, returns in sample class E were then given special treatment.

Form 1120-S

Sample class G.—Returns with net income or deficit of $1,000,000 or more or total assets of $10,000,000 or more.

Sample class H.—Current year returns with net income or deficit under $1,000,000 and total assets of $1,000,000 under $10,000,000, and all prior year delinquent returns not included in sample class G.

Sample class I.—Current year returns with total assets either under $1,000,000 or not reported.

For each of these classes, the number of returns filed, the number of returns in the sample, and the prescribed and achieved sampling rates are given in table O.

¹Size of total assets was the predominant criterion of size. However, there are included in the above stratum about 122,000 returns filed, represented by 16,000 sampled returns, which were allocated to sample classes on the basis of gross sales, gross receipts, or total income. See text description of sample selection.

²Includes returns of inactive corporations.

³See text description of sample classes E and F.

METHOD OF ESTIMATION

The total number of returns with business schedules C and F filed, partnership returns, and corporation returns filed was determined from counts made in each of the district offices and submitted to the Statistics Division.

The adequacy of response by sampling stratum or class was reviewed by applying the prescribed sample ratio to the number of returns filed and comparing this expected sample size with the number of sample returns actually received. When receipts of returns appeared to be inadequate, district offices were requested to transmit additional returns. Estimates for all returns were determined by multiplying the sample data totals by weights obtained by dividing the total number of returns filed in a sampling stratum or class by the number of sample returns received in that stratum or class, and then summarizing the data for all classes.

LIMITATIONS OF THE DATA

Sampling Variability

Presented in tables P, Q, and R are the relative sampling variability of the estimated number of sole proprietorships, active partnerships, and active corporation returns. For the industrial groups shown, the tables indicate the range in percent within which 95 out of 100 similarly derived estimates would fall. Data have been deleted from the tables where the sampling variability was judged to be excessive. Where such a deletion was made, the tables have been appropriately footnoted.

Tables T and U depict the relative sampling variability for selected frequency estimates for the three types of business organizations. Tables S and V arrange the frequency estimates for the number of businesses and selected data items by the size of the relative sampling variability. In addition, table S allows a comparison of the improvement since 1958-59 in the precision of the estimates for the number of business organizations.

Response and Other Nonsampling Errors

In processing returns for collection purposes in the district offices and, later, in processing the sample of such returns for statistical purposes, several steps were taken to reduce taxpayer-reporting errors and other errors introduced in data processing operations. A large proportion of the returns were mathematically verified, but not audited, in the district offices before they were made available for sample selection. Any corrections resulting from mathematical verification of the taxpayer's entries are reflected in the data.

In transcribing and tabulating the information from the sampled returns, additional checks were imposed to improve the quality of the resulting estimates. Returns which showed data in accompanying schedules but not on appropriate return lines, and returns with obvious errors were edited and properly transcribed. Mechanical transcribing was verified by the process of repeat punching, and, prior to tabulating, numerous tests for consistency were applied by the electronic computer to assure that the proper balance and relationship between return items and statistical codes was maintained.

An extensive system of sample management and control was used to insure the selection of the prescribed sample and prevent inaccuracies in estimating the number of returns filed. Sample controls were maintained on a district basis by the most detailed sampling strata. In addition, a name control file containing a historical record of tax return information for very large taxpayers provided a further check on the completeness of the sample.

However, the controls maintained for the selection of the sample returns and the processing of the source data in the field offices did not completely eliminate the possibility of error. Also, practical operating considerations necessitated allowance of reasonable tolerance in controlling the processing of these data within the Statistics Division.

NOTE: The relative sampling variability at the 95 percent level is the sampling variability expressed as a percent of the estimate. The sampling variability when added to and subtracted from the estimate provides the calculated upper and lower limits within which 95 percent of similarly derived estimates would be expected to fall.

HISTORICAL DATA

General

The historical data presented in this volume were derived from material prepared for the Statistics of Income series. For the period 1945 through 1959, data were selected from years for which information was available for both unincorporated businesses and corporations.

The user of these tables must not expect exact comparability of data over many years because:

1. The tables span a period of time during which two basic tax laws were in effect, i.e., the 1939 and the 1954 Internal Revenue Codes. In addition, there were frequent amendments to each Code; for example, the Technical Amendments Act of 1958.

2. The Standard Industrial Classification was revised for Manufacturing industries in 1947, and for Nonmanufacturing industries in 1951. In 1957, a new version covering all industries was established. Also, shifts in production techniques and materials, together with the introduction of new products, have caused individual firms to be shifted from one industry group to another. Generally, these shifts have been confined within particular industrial divisions—i.e., there have been few shifts from one industrial division to another. The Statistics of Income publications from which these historical data were obtained describe the changes in industrial classifications.

3. The statistical sample used for the three types of business organizations varied somewhat from year to year. The original source of the data describes in detail the statistical sample used and the limitations of the data.

Sole proprietorships

Data appearing in the sole proprietorship tables were taken from the Statistics of Income series Individual Income Tax Returns reports for the period 1945-46 through 1955-56. The 1957-58 and 1958-59 data were from U. S. Business Tax Returns reports.

Partnerships

The historical data for 1945-46 and 1947-48 were obtained from Treasury Department press releases containing income statement items, and selected items by size classification. The 1953-54 data were from the Statistics of Income 1953 series Partnership Returns, a report covering many heretofore unpublished financial details of partnerships. The 1957-58 and 1958-59 data were taken from U. S. Business Tax Returns reports.

Corporations

Data shown in the corporation historical table are selections from material published in the annual report, Statistics of Income, Corporation Income Tax Returns or available from unpublished worksheets comprising the Source Book. (See page 187, Statistics of Income-1958-59, Corporation Income Tax Returns for description and use of the Source Book.) The years covered were selected to complement the periods for which sole proprietorship and partnership data are available.

¹Net profit data appearing in the 1957-58 and 1958-59 issue of the report "U. S. Business Tax Returns" differs from the data shown below because secondary income was excluded. To the degree that this income was controlling, the number of partnerships, with net profit and net loss shown below for 1957-58 and 1958-59 is understated.

²"Payments to partners" was not an allowable business deduction in "net profit" or "net loss" determination for the years 1945-46 through 1953-54.

³"Building materials" for 1947-48 and 1945-46 include "Fuel and ice dealers."

⁴No reliable estimate of the sampling variability can be obtained from the sample.

NOTE: See text for explanatory statements and "Description of the Sample and Limitations of the Data."

The industrial division total includes data for industrial groups not shown. See table 9 for a complete list of industrial groups for active partnerships.

INSTRUCTIONS

If you owned a business, or practiced a profession, you must fill in separate Schedule C on other side and enter the net profit (or loss) on line 8, page 1, Form 1040.

Separate Schedule C should include income from (1) sale of merchandise, or products of manufacturing, mining, and construction; (2) business service; and (3) professional service. In general, you should report any income in the earning of which you have incurred expenses for material, labor, supplies, and the like.

All farmers should use separate Schedule F (Form 1040) to report their farm income whether reporting on the cash or accrual method.

Income from any trade or business is subject to the social security self-employment tax, unless specifically excluded. See page 4.

Item A—Business Activity.—State the general classification of business activity, as well as the principal product or service. For example, "Wholesale food," "Retail men's apparel," "Manufacture of upholstered wooden household furniture," "Transportation by truck," "Broker, real estate," "Contractor—carpenter work," "Physician," etc. Do not use such terms as "partnership," "owner," "student," etc. The "principal business activity" is the one which accounts for the largest percentage of your total receipts.

Item D—Business Location.—Do not use home address as business address unless business is actually conducted from home. Enter street address rather than box numbers.

Line 1—Total Receipts.—Include all income derived from your trade or business. Enter in the space provided such items as returned sales, rebates, and allowances from the sale price or service charge.

If you have dividend income from stocks held by you in the ordinary course of carrying on your trade or business, such dividends must be considered together with your dividends from stocks regularly held for investment purposes in computing your dividend exclusion and credit on pages 3 and 4, Form 1040.

Installment Sales.—If you use the installment method of reporting income from sales, you must attach to your return a schedule showing separately for the years 1956, 1957, 1958, and 1959 the following: (a) Gross sales; (b) cost of goods sold; (c) gross profits; (d) percentage of profits to gross sales; (e) amounts collected; and (f) gross profits on amounts collected.

COST OF GOODS SOLD

Lines 2-9.—If you are engaged in a trade or a business in which the production, purchase, or sale of merchandise is an income producing factor, you must take inventories of merchandise and materials on hand at the beginning and end of the taxable year in order to reflect the gross profits correctly. The usual methods of valuing inventory are (a) cost or (b) cost or market whichever is lower. The method properly adopted for the first year in which inventory is taken must be continued unless permission to change is secured from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C. Application for permission to change the method of valuing inventories must be made in writing and filed with the Commissioner within 90 days after the beginning of the taxable year in which it is desired to effect a change. You should enter the letters "C" or "M" immediately before the amount column if inventories are valued either at cost, or at cost or market whichever is lower.

Other methods of valuing inventories of material or merchandise are provided for dealers in securities, for farmers, for miners, for manufacturers who produce more than one product from a single process, and for retail merchants using the "retail method."

A special method based on cost, LIFO, is allowable only if you file an application on Form 970 with your return for the first year used. The requirements for adopting and using the LIFO method are set forth on Form 970. Thereafter, you must attach a separate schedule showing: (a) a summary of all inventories; (b) with respect to inventories computed under the LIFO method, the computation of quantities and cost by acquisition levels.

OTHER BUSINESS DEDUCTIONS

Line 11—Salaries and Wages.—Enter all salaries and wages not included as "Cost of Labor" in "Cost of Goods Sold." Do not deduct any salary or wages for your own services or services of others not performed in connection with your business.

Line 12—Rent on Business Property.—Rents paid or accrued on business property in which you have no equity are deductible. Do not include rent for a building, or any part thereof, which you occupy solely for residential purposes.

Line 13—Interest on Business Indebtedness.—Interest on business indebtedness to others is deductible. Do not include interest to yourself on capital invested in or advanced to the business.

Line 14—Taxes on Business and Business Property.—Include taxes paid or accrued on business property or incurred in carrying on your business. Federal import duties and Federal excise and stamp taxes are deductible if paid or incurred in carrying on a trade or business. Do not include taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, as for paving, sewers, front foot benefits, etc.

Line 15—Losses of Business Property.—You may deduct losses of business property by fire, storm, or other casualty, or theft, to the extent not compensated by insurance or otherwise and not made good by repairs claimed as a deduction. Attach a statement showing a description of the property, date acquired, cost, subsequent improvements, depreciation allowed or allowable since acquisition, insurance, salvage value, and deductible loss.

Line 16—Bad Debts Arising From Sales or Services.—Include debts, or portions thereof, arising from sales or professional services that have been included in income, which have been definitely ascertained to be worthless; or such reasonable amount as has been added within the taxable year to a reserve for bad debts. A debt which is deducted as bad and which reduces your tax must, if subsequently collected, be returned as income for the year in which collected.

Line 17—Depreciation and Obsolescence.—You may deduct a reasonable allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business. For additional information regarding depreciation, especially on new property acquired or constructed after December 31, 1953, and additional first year depreciation, see depreciation section in the instructions for Form 1040.

If a deduction is claimed on account of depreciation, fill in Schedule C-1. In case obsolescence is included, state separately amount claimed and basis upon which it is computed. The value or cost of land must not be included in this schedule, and where land and buildings were purchased for a lump sum, the cost of the building subject to depreciation must be established. The adjusted property accounts and the accumulated depreciation shown in the schedule should be reconciled with those accounts as reflected on your books.

Line 18—Repairs.—You may deduct the cost of incidental repairs, including labor, supplies, and other items, which do not add to the value or appreciably prolong the life of the property. Expenditures for new buildings, machinery, and equipment, or for permanent improvements or betterments which increase the value of the property are chargeable to capital accounts. Expenditures for restoring or replacing property are not deductible, since such expenditures are chargeable to capital accounts or to depreciation reserve depending on how depreciation is charged on your books.

Line 19—Depletion of Mines, Oil and Gas Wells, Timber, Etc.—If a deduction is claimed on account of depletion, procure from your District Director Form M (mines and other natural deposits), Form O (oil and gas), or Form T (timber), fill in and file with return. If complete valuation data have been filed with questionnaire in previous years, then file with your return information necessary to bring depletion schedule up to date, setting forth in full a statement of all transactions bearing on deductions from or additions to value of physical assets during the taxable year with explanation of how depletion deduction for the taxable year has been determined. (See sections 615 and 616 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 for election to capitalize or deduct expenditures for exploration and development of mineral properties.)

Line 20—Amortization.—If you elect the deduction with respect to the amortization of the adjusted basis of (a) any emergency facility with respect to which the Government has issued a certificate of necessity, or (b) a grain storage facility, a statement of the pertinent facts should be filed with your return. (See sections 168 and 169 of the Internal Revenue Code.)

For the election to amortize research or experimental expenditures not subject to depreciation or depletion, see section 174 of the Code.

For the election to amortize trademark or trade name expenditures, see section 177 of the Code.

Line 21—Other Business Expenses.—Include all ordinary and necessary business expenses for which no space is provided in the schedule. Any deduction claimed should be explained in Schedule C-2. Do not include cost of business equipment or furniture, expenditures for replacements, or for permanent improvements to property, or personal living and family expenses.

Net Operating Loss Deduction.—Any net operating loss deduction should be applied as an adjustment of the amount entered on line 11, page 1, Form 1040. See instructions for Form 1040 and submit computation.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SCHEDULE F
(FORM 1040)
ADDITIONAL INCOME TAX INSTRUCTIONS FOR FARMERS
1959
FOR PREPARING SCHEDULE OF FARM INCOME AND EXPENSES

For the assistance of farmers, a separate Schedule F (Form 1040) is provided and should be used by all farmers for income tax and self-employment tax purposes.

METHOD OF ACCOUNTING

Farmers may compute their income either on the cash receipts and disbursements method or on an accrual method, but whichever method is adopted in filing their first return must be followed until the consent of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., is received to change the method.

CASH RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS METHOD

A farmer using the cash receipts and disbursements method shall include in his gross income for the taxable year (1) the amount of cash and the value of merchandise or other property received from the sale of livestock and produce which were raised during the taxable year or prior years, (2) the profits received from the sale of any livestock and other items which were purchased, and (3) gross income received from all other sources. The income from farming should be reported on page 1 of Schedule F. The farm expenses will be the actual amounts paid out during the taxable year plus deductions such as depreciation, depletion, amortization, etc.

ACCRAUAL METHOD

For a farmer using an accrual method, the gross profits are obtained as indicated in summary of income and deductions on page 2 of Schedule F. The farm expenses will be the actual expenses incurred during the year, whether paid or not.

Farmers who compute income on an accrual method and use inventories may value their inventories according to the "farm-price method," in addition to other methods, which provides for the valuation of inventories at market price less direct cost of disposition. Farmers raising livestock may value their inventories of animals according to either the "farm-price method" or the "unit-livestock-price method."

If the use of the "farm-price method" of valuing inventories for any taxable year involves a change in method of valuing inventories from that employed in prior years, permission for the change shall first be secured from the Commissioner.

INCOME

All the farm income from whatever source must be reported in Schedule F or in Schedule D (Form 1040). Anything of value received instead of cash, such as groceries received in exchange for produce, must be treated as income to the extent of its market value.

The value of farm produce consumed by the farmer and his family need not be reported as income, but expenses incurred in raising such produce must not be claimed as deductions.

Recoveries from insurance on growing crops should be included in gross income.

A farmer, who rents all or a part of his crop land on a crop share basis, under a bona fide rental agreement, and who receives crop shares as rent, shall report the crop shares as rental income only for the year in which they are reduced to money, or the equivalent of money.

If a farmer pledges commodities as security for a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation, income is not considered received until the pledged commodities are sold. However, a farmer may elect to include in gross income amounts received during the year as loans from the Corporation. If he does so elect he should file with his return a statement showing details of such loans, and he must continue to report similar loans as income until he receives permission from the Commissioner to change his method of accounting.

Report gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and other property in separate Schedule D (Form 1040).

The term "farm" embraces the farm in the ordinarily accepted sense, and includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, truck farms, and all land used for farming operations. A person cultivating or operating a farm for recreation or pleasure, the result of which is a continual loss from year to year, is not regarded as a farmer.

Patronage dividends received from cooperatives in cash or its equivalent are to be included in farm income to the extent of their fair market value in the year received. Documents such as negotiable instruments and capital stock are considered to have a fair market value at the time of receipt. However, any revolving fund certificate, retain certificate, letter of advice, or similar document, which is payable only in the discretion of the cooperative association, or which is otherwise subject to conditions beyond your control, are to be included in income only in the year cash or other property becomes subject to payment on demand, regardless of your accounting method. Dividends received on purchases of capital assets or depreciable property used in farming are not included in income, but the purchase price of such items must be reduced accordingly. Dividends you receive on nonbusiness purchases are not included in income.

The following situations may be treated as involuntary conversions provided you purchase similar property within the replacement period (generally within one year after the year in which you first realize gain): (1) livestock which are destroyed by or on account of disease, or sold or exchanged because of disease, (2) land lying within an irrigation project which is sold or disposed of to meet acreage limitations under Federal reclamation laws, and (3) livestock (other than poultry) held for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes which are sold or exchanged solely on account of drought in excess of the number which would be sold under usual business practices.

EXPENSES AND OTHER DEDUCTIONS

In general, a farmer who operates a farm for profit is entitled to deduct from gross income as necessary expenses all amounts actually expended in carrying on the business of farming, except those which represent capital investment. The following is a list of such expenses (taken from the classification appearing on page 1 of Schedule F, though any other equally descriptive classification may be used):

Labor hired.—Amounts paid for regular farm labor, piecework, contract labor, and other forms of hired labor. Do not deduct the value of your own labor or that of your wife or family. Only that part of the board which is purchased for hired labor should be deducted. The value of products furnished by the farm and used in the board of hired labor is not deductible. However, the cost of rations purchased for laborers or sharecroppers is deductible. Do not deduct amounts paid to persons engaged in household work except to the extent that the services of such persons are used in boarding and otherwise caring for farm laborers. Amounts paid for services of such employees engaged in caring for the farmer's own household are not deductible.

Feed purchased.—Cost of grain, hay, silage, mill feeds, concentrates, and roughages purchased, and amounts paid for grinding, mixing, and processing of feed.

Machine hire.—Amounts paid for threshing, combining, silo filling, baling, ginning, and other machine hire.

Supplies purchased.—Cost of twine, spray materials, poisons, disinfectants, cans, barrels, baskets, egg cases, bags, and other similar farm supplies purchased.

Cost of repairs and maintenance.—Amounts expended for repairs and maintenance of farm buildings (except your dwelling), of fences, drains, and other farm improvements, and for repairs and maintenance of farm machinery and equipment; cost of ordinary tools of short life or small cost such as shovels, rakes, etc. Amounts paid for replacements of, or additions to, farm machinery, farm buildings, or other farm equipment of a permanent nature are not deductible.

Fertilizers and lime.—Cost of commercial fertilizers, lime, and manure purchased during the year, the benefit of which is of short duration.

Taxes.—State and local taxes. Do not deduct Federal income taxes; estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes; nor taxes assessed for any improvement or betterment tending to increase the value of the property assessed. Do not deduct taxes on your dwelling or household property and other taxes not related to the business of farming.

Insurance.—Cost of all insurance on farm buildings (except your dwelling) and on improvements, equipment, crops, and livestock.

Farm interest.—Interest paid on farm mortgages and other obligations incurred in carrying on farming.

Utilities.—The farm share of the expenditures for water rent, electricity, telephone, etc. Do not deduct personal expenses.

Rent of farm, part of farm, or pasturage.—Rent paid in cash. A tenant farmer paying rent to his landlord in the form of crops raised on the farm (under a crop share agreement) may not deduct as rent the value of the crop given to the landlord, but the tenant may deduct all amounts paid by him in raising the crop.

Conservation expenses.—You may deduct certain expenditures made by you (including any amount paid on any assessment levied by a soil or water conservation or drainage district to defray expenditures made by such district) for soil or water conservation and the prevention of erosion if such expenditures are in respect of land used by you in your business of farming.

The term "expenditures" for this purpose means expenditures (a) for the treatment or moving of earth, including but not limited to, leveling, grading, terracing, and contour furrowing; (b) the construction, control, and protection of diversion channels, drainage ditches, earthen dams, watercourses, outlets, and ponds; (c) the eradication of brush; and (d) the planting of windbreaks. You may not deduct expenditures for the construction, installation, or improvement of facilities which are subject to the allowance for depreciation or expenses which are deductible elsewhere.

The allowable deduction for any one year may not exceed 25 percent of your gross income from farming, but any excess may be carried over to succeeding years with the same limit applying to those years. The phrase "gross income from farming" means the gross income of the farmer from the business of producing crops, fruits or other agricultural products or raising livestock; it includes such income from a farm other than the one on which expenditures for soil and water conservation, or for the prevention of erosion, were made.

To claim a deduction for these expenditures you must (a) elect to do so for the first taxable year which begins after December 31, 1953, and ends after August 16, 1954, for which such expenditures are paid by claiming such deduction on your return; or, (b) secure consent from the District Director of Internal Revenue for any other year. Once you have elected to do so, you must continue to treat such expenditures as deductions in all future taxable years unless you secure consent from the District Director to change.

Other farm expenses.—Fees paid for advertising farm products; expenditures for stamps, stationery, account books, and other office supplies purchased for farm use; expenditures for travel in connection with the farm and similar expenditures. Amounts expended for purchase of automobiles, farm machinery, farm buildings, or other farm equipment of a permanent nature are not deductible.

Depreciation.—Allowance for depreciation of buildings, improvements, machinery, or other farm equipment of a permanent nature. Similar assets may be grouped together as one item for reporting purposes in the depreciation schedule on Schedule F. In computing depreciation do not include the value of farm land or land on which farm buildings are located. Do not deduct repairs or depreciation on the dwelling you occupy or on your personal or household equipment. Do not claim depreciation on livestock or any other property included in your inventory. Depreciation, however, may be claimed on livestock acquired for work, breeding, or dairy purposes which are not included in your inventory of livestock purchased or raised for sale. See the instructions for Form 1040 for methods of computing depreciation.

Losses.—Losses of farm buildings, machinery, and other farm property not included in your inventory, to the extent not compensated by insurance or otherwise. Losses of property included in your inventory are taken care of by the reduced amount of the inventory at the close of the year. The total loss of a prospective crop by frost, storm, flood, or fire, is not deductible. When using the cash method, the value of animals raised by you and lost by death is not deductible, while in the case of animals purchased and lost by death, the cost less depreciation allowed or allowable is deductible to the extent the loss is not compensated by insurance or otherwise. Do not deduct personal losses.

Amortization.—If you elect the deduction with respect to the amortization of the adjusted basis of a grain storage facility, a statement of the pertinent facts should be filed with your return. (See section 169 of the Internal Revenue Code.)

Net operating loss deduction.—Any net operating loss deduction should be applied as an adjustment of the amount entered on line 11, page 1, Form 1040. See instructions for Form 1040 and submit computation.

INSTRUCTIONS

For the

1959 U.S. Partnership Return

Form 1065

The term "partnership" includes a limited partnership, syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization, through or by means of which any business, financial operation, or venture is carried on, and which is not within the meaning of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, a corporation, trust, estate, or a sole proprietorship. The term "partner" means a member of a partnership.

NOTE: A "Small Business Corporation" must file Form 1120-S.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

A. Who must file Form 1065.—Every partnership (see general instruction L for exceptions) shall, for its taxable year, make a return of income on Form 1065 stating specifically the items of gross income and allowable deductions, and such additional information required under the following Specific Instructions. If the return is filed on behalf of a syndicate, pool, joint venture, or similar group, a copy of the agreement, together with all amendments thereto, should be attached to the return, unless a copy has been previously filed.

Only one return is required for each partnership. If copies of the form are furnished to individual partners, they should be clearly identified as "Duplicate Copy."

B. Period to be covered by return.—The return shall be filed for the calendar year 1959 or other taxable year beginning in 1959. A partnership taxable year shall be determined as though the partnership were a taxpayer.

C. Change in, or adoption of, accounting period.—A change by any partnership from one taxable year to another, or the adoption by a new partnership of an initial taxable year, must meet the provisions of section 706(b) of the Code. A change by a principal partner from one taxable year to another must meet the provisions of section 706(b) and 442 of the Code. A principal partner is one who has an interest of 5 percent or more in the partnership profits or capital.

For the taxable years of partnerships resulting from a merger or division of other partnerships, see sections 706(b) and 708(b)(2).

D. Time and place for filing.—The return of a resident partnership must be filed on or before the 15th day of the 4th month following the close of the taxable year of the partnership, with the District Director of Internal Revenue for the District in which the partnership has its principal office or principal place of business. The return of a foreign partnership in which all the partners are nonresident aliens shall be filed on or before the 15th day of the 6th month following the close of the taxable year of the partnership with the district director for the district in which such partnership has a principal office or place of business within the United States.

Where the partnership does not have a principal office or place of business in the United States, the return shall be filed with the Director, International Operations Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D.C., U.S.A.

E. Signature.—The return must be signed by one partner or member. If receivers, trustees in bankruptcy, or assignees are in control of the property or business of the organization, such receivers, trustees, or assignees must sign the return.

Any person(s), firm, or corporation who prepares a partnership return for compensation also must sign. If the return is prepared by a firm or corporation, the return should be signed in the name of the firm or corporation. The statement is not required if the return is prepared by a regular, full-time employee of the partnership such as a clerk, secretary, bookkeeper, etc.

F. Penalties.—Severe penalties are provided by law for willful failure to make and file a return on time and for willful attempt to evade or defeat payment of tax.

G. Methods of accounting.—If the partnership's books are kept on an accrual method, report all income accrued and expenses incurred. If the books are kept on the cash receipts and disbursements method, or if the partnership kept no books, make the return by the cash receipts and disbursement method and report all income received or constructively received, such as bank interest credited to the partnership's account and coupon bond interest matured, and report expenses actually paid. The books may be kept by (1) cash method, (2) accrual method, or (3) any permissible combination of methods.

Rounding Off to Whole-Dollar Amounts

If you wish, the money items on your return and accompanying schedules required by such return may be shown as whole-dollar amounts. This means that you eliminate any amount less than 50 cents, and increase any amount from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next higher dollar.

H. Items exempt from tax.—Items exempt from tax are listed in sections 101 through 121, for example:

(1) Interest on governmental obligations.—The interest on obligations of a State or a possession of the United States, or any political subdivision of any of the foregoing or of the District of Columbia is exempt.

(2) Proceeds of insurance policies.—In general, the proceeds of life insurance policies, paid to the partnership by reason of the death of a partner, are exempt. If any part of the proceeds is held by the insurer under an agreement to pay interest, the interest is taxable.

(3) Income from improvements by lessee.—Income, other than rent, derived by a lessor of real property upon the termination of a lease, representing the value of such property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by the lessee, is exempt.

I. Information at source.—Every partnership making payments in the course of its trade or business during the calendar year 1959 of (1) interest, rents, commissions, or other fixed or determinable income of $600 or more, or (2) salaries and wages of $600 or more shall make returns on Forms 1096 and 1099. Exceptions.—No report is required of the following: (a) Wages reported on Form W-2, (b) Payments of any type to a corporation, (c) Distributions or salaries to the partners, (d) Rent paid as a tenant to a real estate agent, and (e) Payments made as a broker to your customers.

J. Balance sheets.—The balance sheets, Schedule L, should agree with the books of account, otherwise any differences should be explained in an attached statement. Partnerships reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission or to any national, State, municipal, or other public officer, may submit, in lieu of Schedule L, copies of their balance sheets prescribed by said Commission or State or municipal authorities, as at the beginning and end of the taxable year.

In case the balance sheet as at the beginning of the current taxable year does not agree in every respect with the balance sheet which was submitted as at the end of the previous taxable year, the differences should be explained.

K. Principal business activity.—On page 1 of the return, give the one business activity that accounts for the largest percentage of "total receipts." "Total receipts" means gross receipts (line 1, page 1) plus all other sources of ordinary income included in line 26, page 1, of the return. State the broad field of business activity as well as the specific product or service, such as "Wholesale food," "Retail apparel," etc.

L. Elections.—(1) A partnership may elect to be taxed as a domestic corporation if it qualifies under section 1361. In such cases, Form 1120 rather than Form 1065 should be filed.

(2) An unincorporated organization qualifying under section 761(a) as an investing partnership or as participating in the joint production, extraction, or use of property under an operating agreement may elect to be excluded from treatment as a partnership in accordance with section 1.761-1(a)(2) of the Regulations. Such unincorporated organization must make the election in a statement attached to Form 1065 for the first year for which an election to be excluded is desired. For subsequent years such unincorporated organization must file Forms 1096 and 1099 instead of Form 1065. See section 1.761-1(a)(2) of the Regulations.

(3) With one exception, elections affecting the computation of taxable income derived from partnership operations shall be made by the partnership. Such elections might be as to the method of accounting employed, methods of depreciation, etc. The one exception is with regard to the Foreign Tax Credit provided for in section 901, in which case each partner may make a separate election on his individual income tax return.

(4) Information with regard to elections affecting the basis of partnership property, the basis of partners' interests, and the distribution of property and other elections, may be found under the applicable sections of Chapter 1, subchapter K of the Code and the Regulations issued thereunder.

M. Section 702(a) items.—Each partner is required by the Code to take into account separately his distributive share of certain specific items enumerated in the Code as follows: (1) Gains and losses from sales and exchanges of capital assets held for not more than 6 months; (2) gains and losses from sales and exchanges of capital assets held for more than 6 months; (3) gains and losses from sales and exchanges of property described in section 1231; (4) charitable contributions; (5) qualifying dividends; (6) taxes described in section 901; (7) partially tax-exempt interest; (8) other items of income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit, to the extent provided by Regulations (See instructions for Schedule K); and (9) taxable income or loss (ordinary income) exclusive of items 1 through 8 above.

N. Distribution of unrealized receivables and inventory items.—Where a partner receives a distribution of unrealized receivables or substantially appreciated inventory items in exchange for all, or a part, of his interest in other partnership property (including money), the transaction is treated as a sale or exchange of such property between the distributee partner and the partnership. The gain realized by the partnership is treated as ordinary income and reported on line 11 of page 1. See section 751 and the Regulations issued thereunder.

O. Net operating loss deduction.—The benefit of the deduction for net operating losses provided by section 172 shall not be allowed to a partnership. In computing his own net operating loss or his own taxable income for any taxable year for the purposes of the computation required by section 172, however, each partner shall take into account his share of the income and losses of the partnership. The net operating loss deduction shall not be allowed in computing the net earnings from self-employment.

P. Information regarding renegotiable contracts.—Every partnership which held, during the taxable year, contracts or subcontracts which were subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1951, shall, in answer to question F, page 1, state the actual or if not accurately determinable, its best estimate of the aggregate gross dollar amount billed during the current taxable year under all contracts and/or subcontracts. The gross amount billed on cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts, and not merely the fixed fee, shall be included.

The term "subcontract" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any article, required for the performance of another contract or subcontract.

Q. Specially allocated items.—Distributive shares of items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit are to be allocated among the partners in accordance with the partnership agreement for sharing income or loss generally. However, where the partners agree, specified items may be allocated among them in a different ratio than that for sharing income or loss generally, and such allocation may be recognized in accordance with the provisions of section 704. For instance, if the net income exclusive of specially allocated items is divided evenly between three partners but some special items are allocated 50 percent to one, 30 percent to another, and 20 percent to the third partner, the special items should be reported in Schedule K, instead of in the other numbered lines on page 1.

R. Attachments.—Attachments may be used in the preparation of your return and separate Schedule D, provided they contain all of the required information and that summarized totals of the items shown in the attachments are entered on the return and schedules.

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

The following instructions correspond with line numbers on the first page of the return, and with schedules appearing on other pages of the return.

1. Gross receipts or gross sales.—Include all income derived from your trade or business. Enter in the space provided such items as returned sales, rebates, and allowances from the sale price or service charge.

2. Cost of goods sold [Schedule A].—If the production, manufacture, purchase, or sale of merchandise is an income-producing factor in the trade or business, inventories of merchandise on hand should be taken at the beginning and end of the taxable year and may, unless the LIFO method is used, be valued at (a) cost, (b) cost or market, whichever is lower, or (c) any other method approved by the Commissioner. The method of valuing inventory adopted for the first year is controlling, and a change can be made only after permission is secured from the Commissioner. Application for permission to change the method of valuing inventories shall be made in writing and filed with the Commissioner within 90 days after the beginning of the taxable year in which it is desired to effect a change.

If the partnership desires to adopt the LIFO inventory method provided in section 472, it must file application to do so on Form 970.

Items withdrawn from inventory or purchases for the personal use of individual partners should not be included as part of the cost of goods sold, but should be accounted for in Schedule M—Reconciliation of Partners' Capital Accounts.

Installment sales.—If, pursuant to section 493, the installment method is used, attach to the return a schedule showing separately for the years 1956, 1957, 1958, and 1959 the following: (a) Gross sales; (b) cost of goods sold; (c) gross profits; (d) percentage of gross profits to gross sales; (e) amount collected; and (f) gross profit on amount collected.

Farmer's income schedule.—If the partnership operates a farm, obtain from the District Director and attach to the return, separate Schedule F (Form 1040), Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses. (See Instruction 9.)

4. Income (or loss) from other partnerships, syndicates, etc.—Enter the partnership's share of the profits (whether received or not) or losses of another partnership, except the partnership's distributive share of another partnership's capital gains or losses, which should be reported in separate Schedule D (Form 1065). If the distributive share is a loss, such loss must be limited to the amount of the adjusted basis of the interest in the other partnership as of the end of the other partnership's year in which the loss occurred. If the taxable year on the basis of which the partnership's return is filed does not coincide with the annual accounting period of the other partnership, include in the return the distributive share of the net profits (or losses) for the accounting period of such other partnership ending within the period for which the return is filed.

5. Nonqualifying dividends.—Nonqualifying dividends are taxable dividends which are included in Ordinary Income and for which the individual partner is NOT entitled to an exclusion or credit. Such dividends are derived from the following sources:

(a) Life insurance companies, and mutual insurance companies (other than mutual marine or mutual fire insurance companies issuing perpetual policies);

(b) Corporations organized under the China Trade Act (section 941);

(c) Corporations which, for the taxable year of the corporation in which the distribution is made, or for the next preceding taxable year of the corporation, are—

- (1) Exempt from tax under section 501 (charitable, etc., organizations) or section 521 (farmers' cooperatives); or
 - (2) Corporations to which section 931 (income from sources within possession of the United States) applies;
 - (d) Mutual savings banks, cooperative banks, domestic building and loan associations, domestic savings and loan associations, Federal savings and loan associations on deposits or withdrawable accounts. Dividends from these organizations must be reported as interest.
 - (e) Regulated investment companies except to the extent designated by the company to be taken into account as a dividend for these purposes.
 - (f) Foreign corporations.
- Qualifying dividends are taxable dividends received from domestic corporations and not listed above. See instructions for Schedule K.
6. Interest.—Enter total interest from all sources except:
 - (a) Interest wholly exempt from tax.
 - (b) Interest on tax-free covenant bonds. See instructions for Schedule K.
 - (c) Partially tax-exempt interest. See instructions for Schedule K.
 7. Rents.—Enter net income (or loss) from line 2, Schedule B.
 8. Royalties.—Enter net income (or loss) as shown on the detailed schedule to be attached to the return.
 9. Net farm profit (or loss).—Enter the net profit (or loss) from Schedule F (Form 1040). Do NOT include in such line any amounts reported in Schedule K, Form 1065.
 10. Net gain (or loss) from sale or exchange of other property.—Enter gains and losses from the sale or exchange of property other than capital assets and section 1231 items, from line 12 of the separate Schedule D (Form 1065).
 11. Other income.—Enter any other taxable income and explain its nature in an attached schedule except items requiring separate computation which are required to be reported in Schedule K. (See instructions for Schedule K.) Include taxable income from annuities and insurance proceeds.

DEDUCTIONS

13. Salaries and wages.—Enter all salaries and wages not included as a deduction in line 3 of Schedule A, except salaries to partners.
14. Payments to partners—salaries and interest (Guaranteed Payments).—In computing Ordinary Income, a deduction may be taken for payments to a partner for services or the use of capital where such payments are determined without regard to the income of the partnership. Do not include distributive shares of partnership profits. Allocate to the appropriate partners in column 4, Schedule K.
15. Rent.—Enter rent on business property but do not deduct rent for a dwelling occupied by any partner for residential purposes.
16. Interest.—Enter interest on business indebtedness. Amounts paid by a partnership to a partner for the use of capital should be entered on line 14. However, amounts paid as interest by a partnership to a partner as the result of a transaction wherein the partner acts in a capacity other than as a partner should be entered on this line. Do not include interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations the interest upon which is wholly exempt from taxation. (The limitations on deductions for unpaid interest are set forth in section 267 of the Code.)
17. Taxes.—Enter taxes paid on business property or incurred for carrying on business if not reflected in cost of goods sold. Federal import duties and Federal excise and stamp taxes are deductible only if paid or incurred in carrying on a trade or business, or in the production or collection of income, or for the management, conservation, or maintenance of property held for the production of income. Do not deduct taxes assessed against local benefits tending to increase the value of the property assessed, as for paving, etc., Federal income taxes, estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes, or taxes reported in Schedule K. Do not deduct taxes imposed on the interest of the partnership as stockholder of a corporation which are paid by the corporation without reimbursement from the partnership. See section 164(d) for special rules for allocation of real estate property taxes between buyer and seller of property.
18. Losses by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or theft.—Enter losses sustained during the year, if arising by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft, and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, nor reflected in cost of goods sold. (See sec. 165(c).) Theft losses can be deducted in the year in which the partnership discovers the loss, and only in that year. Attach a statement setting forth a description of the property, date acquired, cost, subsequent improvements, depreciation allowed or allowable since acquisition, insurance, salvage value, and deductible loss claimed.
19. Bad debts.—Bad debts may be deducted either (1) when they become wholly or partially worthless, or (2) by a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. No change of method is allowed without permission of the Commissioner. (See Instructions on separate Schedule D (Form 1065) regarding nonbusiness debts.)
20. Repairs.—Enter the cost of incidental repairs, including labor, supplies, and other items, which do not add to the value or appreciably prolong the life of the property repaired. Expenditures for new buildings, machinery, equipment, or for permanent improvements or betterments which increase the value of the property are chargeable to capital accounts. Expenditures for restoring or replacing property are not deductible, since such expenditures are chargeable to capital accounts or to depreciation reserves.

21. Depreciation.—A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of partnership property used in the trade or business or of partnership property held by the partnership for the production of income shall be allowed as a depreciation deduction. The allowance does not apply to inventories, stock-in-trade, or to land apart from the improvements or physical development added to it. The cost or other basis of leasehold improvements, patents, and copyrights should also be depreciated in Schedule I.

The useful life of an asset can be measured in units of production or machine hours (for machinery) or in miles of operation (for automotive equipment), etc., but the ordinary practice is to measure useful life in years. Business experience, engineering information, and other relevant factors provide a reasonable basis for estimating the useful life of property. The cost (or other basis) to be recovered should be charged off over the expected useful life of the property. For guidance, comprehensive tables of "average useful lives" of various kinds of buildings, machines, and equipment in many industries and businesses have been published in a booklet called Bulletin F, which you can buy for 30 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

(1) Straight line method.—The most common method of computing depreciation is the "straight line" method. It allows for the recovery of cost in equal annual amounts over the life of the property, with only salvage value remaining at the end of its useful life. To compute the deduction, add the cost of improvements to the cost (or other basis) of the asset and deduct both the estimated salvage value and the total depreciation allowed or allowable in past years. Divide the result by the number of years of useful life remaining to the asset—the quotient is the depreciation deduction.

(2) Declining Balance Method.—Under this method a uniform rate is applied each year to the remaining cost or other basis of property (without adjustment for salvage value) determined at the beginning of such year. For property acquired before January 1, 1954, or used property whenever acquired, the rate of depreciation under this method may not exceed one and one-half times the applicable straight-line rate.

(3) Special rules for new assets acquired after December 31, 1953.—The cost or other basis of an asset acquired after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper in the past, or it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided: (1) That the asset is tangible, (2) that it has an estimated useful life of 3 years or more, and (3) that the original use of the asset commenced with the partnership and commenced after December 31, 1953. If an asset is constructed, reconstructed, or erected by the partnership, so much of the basis of the asset as is attributable to construction, reconstruction, or erection after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper in the past, or it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided that the asset meets qualifications (1) and (2) above.

(a) Declining Balance Method.—This method may be used with a rate not in excess of twice the applicable straight-line rate.

(b) Sum of the years-digits method.—Under this method annual allowances for depreciation are computed by applying changing fractions to the partnership's cost or other basis of property (reduced by estimated salvage).

The deduction for each year is computed by multiplying the cost or other basis of the asset (reduced by estimated salvage value) by the number of years of useful life remaining (including the year for which the deduction is computed) and dividing the product by the sum of all the digits corresponding to the years of the estimated useful life of the asset. In the case of a 5-year life this sum would be 15 (5+4+3+2+1). For the first year five-fifteenths of the cost reduced by estimated salvage value would be allowable, for the second year four-fifteenths, etc.

(c) Other methods.—A partnership may use any reasonable consistent method which does not result in accumulated allowances at the end of any year greater than the total of the accumulated allowances which would have resulted from the use of the declining balance method. This limitation applies only during the first two-thirds of the useful life of the property.

Note: For taxable years ending after June 30, 1958, a partnership engaged in business may elect to write off part of the cost of its tangible depreciable personal property acquired after December 31, 1957, which has a useful life of at least 6 years from the date of acquisition. The allowance is in addition to regular depreciation allowable on the balance of the basis of the asset and is deductible in the first year in which the regular depreciation deduction is allowable with respect to the property.

The amount that may be written off is up to 20 percent of the cost of the property but not to exceed $2,000 ($4,000 if married and filing a joint return) for each partner. For example—

The A & B Company, a partnership consisting of A and B, purchased an asset which cost $100,000. Each partner is married and each is filing a joint return. The profit and loss sharing ratio is 50 percent to each. The total that may be written off is $8,000 (20 percent of $100,000 limited to $4,000 for each partner). If the purchase price of the asset had been $20,000 and the profit and loss ratio was 90 percent to A and 10 percent to B, the total amount that the partnership could write off would be 20 percent of $20,000 or $4,000 (90 percent of $4,000 or $3,600 for A and 10 percent of $4,000 or $400 for B).

The total additional first year depreciation should be shown on the designated line of Schedule 1. A schedule should be attached to the return showing the computation and distribution of this depreciation.

22. Amortization.—If the partnership elects the deduction with respect to the amortization of (a) the adjusted basis of any emergency facility (section 168) with respect to which the Government has issued a certificate of necessity, or a grain storage facility (section 169), or (b) certain expenditures relating to research and experiment (section 174), trademark and trade name expenditures (section 177), exploration (section 615), and development (section 616), a statement of the pertinent facts should be filed with the return. Do not enter the deductions for amortization of bond premium on this line but include it in Schedule J.

23. Depletion of mines, oil and gas wells, timber, etc.—If a deduction is claimed on account of depletion, procure from the District Director Form M (mines and other natural deposits), Form O (oil and gas), or Form T (timber), and file with return. If complete valuation data have been filed in previous years, then file with the return information necessary to bring the depletion schedule up to date, setting forth in full, a statement of all the transactions bearing on the deductions from or additions to the value of physical assets during the taxable year, with an explanation of how the depletion deduction for the taxable year has been determined. (See sections 611 and 612.)

24. Other deductions authorized by law.—Enter any other authorized deductions for which no space is provided elsewhere on page 1 of the return, exclusive of items requiring separate computation and required to be reported in Schedule K. Do not deduct losses incurred in transactions which were neither connected with the trade or business nor entered into for profit. No deduction is allowable for the amount of any item or part thereof allocable to a class of exempt income, other than the allowable portion attributable to wholly exempt interest income. Items directly attributable to such exempt income shall be allocated thereto, and items directly attributable to any class of taxable income shall be allocated to such taxable income. If an item is attributable both to taxable income and exempt income, a reasonable proportion thereof, determined in the light of all the facts in each case, shall be allocated to each.

A partnership receiving any exempt income, other than interest, or holding any property or engaging in any activity the income from which is exempt shall submit with its return as a part thereof an itemized statement, in detail, showing (1) the amount of each class of exempt income, and (2) the amount of expense items allocated to each such class (the amount allocated by apportionment being shown separately).

Schedule D—Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and other property.—The computation of gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and property other than capital assets should be made on the separate Schedule D (Form 1065). Every sale or exchange of property, even though no gain or loss is indicated, must be reported in detail.

Schedule K—Partners' shares of income, credits, and deductions.—This schedule should show complete information with respect to all the persons who were members of the partnership, syndicate, group, etc., during any portion of the taxable year. Although the partnership is not subject to income tax, the members thereof are liable for income tax in their separate capacities and are taxable upon their distributive shares of the income of the partnership, whether distributed or not, and each is required to include his shares in his return. However, a partner may not claim on his separate return a distributive share of loss from a partnership to the extent any such loss exceeds the basis of his interest in the partnership. The excess of such loss may be claimed for later years to the extent that the basis for the partner's interest is increased above zero. Each partner should be advised by the partnership of his share of the income, deductions, and credits as shown in Schedule K.

Column 1.—Enter the name and address of each partner. Where return of partner is filed in another internal revenue district, specify district.

Column 2.—Enter the percentage of time devoted to the business by each partner.

Column 3.—Enter the distributive share of the Ordinary Income reported on line 26, page 1. This amount is the taxable income or loss of the partnership, exclusive of items requiring separate computations. (See General Instructions M and Q and the instructions below.)

Column 4.—Enter the payments to partners of salaries and interest shown on line 14, page 1, of the return.

Column 5.—Enter the distributive share of the contributions paid by the partnership within the partnership's taxable year as shown in the schedule attached to the return.

Column 6.—Enter the distributive share of the net short-term gain (or loss) from sale or exchange of capital assets shown on line 3 of the separate Schedule D (Form 1065).

Column 7.—Enter the distributive share of the net long-term gain (or loss) from sale or exchange of capital assets shown on line 6 of the separate Schedule D (Form 1065).

Column 8.—Enter the distributive share of the net gain (or loss) under section 1231 shown on line 9 of the separate Schedule D (Form 1065).

A separate schedule must be attached to the return showing each partner's distributive share of the following:

(a) Dividends received from domestic corporations, with respect to which the partner is entitled to a credit (section 34) or an exclusion (section 116) on his individual income tax return. See also Instruction 5.

(b) Partially tax-exempt interest received on obligations of the United States or on obligations of instrumentalities of the United States. However, if the partnership elects to amortize premiums on bonds, the amount received on such obligations by the partnership shall be reduced by the amortizable bond premium.

(c) The total of the income or gain and the total of the deduction or credit of the following items: Recoveries of bad debts, prior taxes and delinquency amounts (section 111); gains and losses from wagering transactions (section 165(d)); soil and water conservation expenditures (section 175); intangible drilling and development costs (section 263(c)); exploration expenditures (section 615); and any items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit subject to a special allocation under the partnership agreement which differs from the allocation of partnership income or loss generally.

(d) Interest on tax-free covenant bonds upon which a Federal tax was paid at source.

(e) taxes described in section 901 which have been paid or accrued by the partnership to foreign countries or to possessions of the United States.

If you are a shareholder of a regulated investment company and receive notice on Form 2439 that the company paid tax on undistributed capital gains, also enter your share of the tax paid by the regulated investment company. Partners should be instructed to claim their part of the credit on their income tax return by following the tax return instructions except that the credit should be identified as a "Regulated Investment Company credit received from a partnership" in lieu of attaching Form 2439. Copy B of Form 2439 should be attached to the partnership return to substantiate the credit.

Schedule N—Computation of net earnings (or loss) from self-employment.—Payments to partners—salaries and interest.—The total of amounts paid to partners which were included on line 14, on page 1 of the return, must be entered on line 2 and added back to the ordinary income in arriving at the net earnings (or loss) from self-employment.

Sale or exchange of property other than capital assets from line 10 page 1.—Net loss from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of business property held for 6 months or less if such property is neither stock in trade nor other property of a kind which would properly be includible in inventory at the close of the taxable year, nor property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business must be entered on line 3. Net gains should be entered on line 9 as an exclusion.

In determining the amount of net earnings from self-employment, there should be excluded income from the following sources and deductions attributable thereto:

Interest.—Interest on bonds, debentures, notes, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by a corporation or by a government or political subdivision thereof, unless received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities.

Real estate rentals.—Rentals from real estate, except rentals received in the course of a trade or business as a real-estate dealer. Receipts for the use or occupancy of rooms or other space where services are also rendered to the occupant, such as rooms in hotels, boardinghouses, apartment houses furnishing hotel services, tourist camps, tourist homes, or space in parking lots, warehouses, or storage garages do not constitute rentals from real estate and therefore are included in determining net earnings from self-employment.

Partnerships with income from farming.—A partner may use the optional method of computing net earnings from self-employment from farming on his individual income tax return. See pages 3 and 4 of Schedule F (Form 1040) for instructions and the computation of net earnings from self-employment from farming. In figuring the gross profits from farming to be included on line 13, page 3 of Schedule F (Form 1040) enter your share of the gross profits shown on either line 3 of page 1 or line 5 of page 2 of the Schedule F (Form 1040) filed with the partnership return.

How To Prepare Your 1959 Corporation Income Tax Return ON FORM 1120

(References are to the Internal Revenue Code).

Note: "Small Business Corporation" file Form 1120-S rather than Form 1120. See last paragraph of General Instruction H.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

A. Corporations required to make a return on Form 1120.—Every domestic and every resident foreign corporation not expressly exempt from taxation under chapter 1 (Section 501), whether or not having any taxable income, must file a return. The term "corporation" is defined by the Code to include associations, joint-stock companies, and insurance companies.

Partnerships and proprietorships may elect to be taxed as domestic corporations if an election is made not later than 60 days after the close of the taxable year and if certain qualifications are met. (Section 1361.) If the return is filed by a proprietorship or partnership, electing to be taxed as a corporation under section 1361, it must be signed by the proprietor or a partner.

If a receiver, trustee in dissolution, trustee in bankruptcy, or assignee has possession of or holds title to all or substantially all the property or business of a corporation, whether or not the property or business is being operated, he must make a return of income for the corporation in the same manner and form required of other corporations. (Section 6012.)

A mutual savings bank not having capital stock represented by shares; a domestic building and loan association, a domestic savings and loan association, a Federal savings and loan association, substantially all the business of which is confined to making loans to members; and a cooperative bank without capital stock, operated for mutual purposes and without profit, are subject to income tax and must file returns.

B. Period to be covered by return.—Returns shall be filed for the calendar year 1959 or fiscal year beginning in 1959 and ending in 1960. A fiscal year is an accounting period of 12 months ending on the last day of a calendar month other than December, but if a taxpayer has made the election provided in section 441 (f), the term "fiscal year" means an annual period varying from 52 to 53 weeks. If a taxpayer has no annual accounting period, or keeps no books, or has an accounting period which does not qualify as a fiscal year, the return must be filed for the calendar year, except as provided in section 443.

For the procedure to follow in changing an established accounting period, see your District Director.

C. Accounting methods.—Taxable income shall be computed in accordance with the method of accounting regularly used by the taxpayer in maintaining its books and records. In all cases the method adopted should clearly reflect taxable income. The basic methods of accounting are the "cash receipts and disbursements method" and the "accrual method." Section 446 permits the use of these methods or any other method permitted under the Code or any combination of these methods in accordance with regulations. If a taxpayer engages in more than one trade or business, it may, with respect to each trade or business, use a different method of accounting. Each method must, however, clearly reflect the income of the particular trade or business with which it is used, and separate profit and loss statements for each trade or business must be submitted. Except in those cases where the law specifically permits it, a taxpayer may not change the method of accounting upon the basis of which it has reported its income in prior years (for its income as a whole or with respect to any separate trade or business) without first securing consent. For procedure to be followed in securing consent, see your District Director.

Cash receipts and disbursements method.—Under this method, a taxpayer includes all items of taxable income (whether cash, property, or services) in the year when it is actually or constructively received and claims as deductible expenses only those expenses actually paid. Income is constructively received when the amount is credited to the taxpayer's account, or set aside for it, and is unconditionally subject to its command. This includes uncashed checks, bank interest credited, matured bond coupons, and other similar items which can be immediately turned into cash. Do not deduct capital expenditures.

Accrual method.—Under this method income is reported in the year when the taxpayer first has a definite right to income, the amount of which can be ascertained with reasonable accuracy, while deductions are taken in the year in which there is first established a specific liability, the amount of which can be ascertained with reasonable accuracy. Where the right to income or the liability for expense is uncertain, or the amount of such income or expense cannot be ascertained with reasonable accuracy, accrual is generally postponed until a determination is possible.

Other methods.—Separate provisions are contained in section 453 for installment method of accounting. For other information on accounting methods, see your District Director.

Rounding off to whole-dollar amounts.—If you wish, the money items on your return or accompanying schedules required by such return may be shown as whole-dollar amounts. This means that you eliminate any amount less than 50 cents, and increase any amount from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next highest dollar.

D. Filing of return and payment of tax.—Returns of domestic and resident foreign corporations must be filed on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the taxable year with the District Director of Internal Revenue for the district in which the corporation's principal place of business or principal office or agency is located. (Section 6072.)

Request for automatic extension of 3 months for filing of return must be made on Form 7004. (Section 6081 (b).)

The balance of tax due as shown on line 31, page 1 of the return, must be paid in full when the return is filed or in two installments, 50 percent on or before the 15th day of the third month and 50 percent on or before the 15th day of the sixth month following the close of the taxable year.

If any installment is not paid on or before the date fixed for its payment, the whole amount of the tax unpaid shall be paid upon notice and demand by the District Director. The tax may be paid in cash or by check or money order drawn to the order of "Internal Revenue Service." Cash payment should be made only in person at the District Director's office.

A declaration of estimated tax must be made by every corporation which is subject to income tax under section 11 or 1201 (a), or subchapter L of chapter 1 (relating to insurance companies), if its income tax for the taxable year can reasonably be expected to exceed $100,000 plus the amount of any estimated credits against tax. (See Form 1120-ES.) In the case of affiliated corporations filing a consolidated return, see consolidated return regulations prescribed under section 1502.

Additional charge for underpayment of estimated tax.—Underpayment of installments of estimated tax will result in additional charges for the period from the due date of each installment until paid, or until the due date for filing the tax return, whichever is the earlier.

The charge with respect to any underpayment of any installment is mandatory and will be made unless the exceptions specified in section 6655 (d) are applicable.

If you have an underpayment of estimated tax and believe the additional charge should not be asserted due to the applicability of the "relief provisions" of section 6655 (d), attach a statement to your return explaining which of the provisions applies to you, showing any necessary computations. If you wish, you may obtain Form 2220 from the nearest Internal Revenue Service office for this purpose.

E. Signature and verification.—The return must be signed either by the president, vice-president, treasurer, assistant treasurer or chief accounting officer, or by any other corporate officer (such as tax officer) who is authorized to sign. A receiver, trustee, or assignee must sign any return which he is required to file on behalf of a corporation. The return must also be signed by any person, firm, or corporation who prepared the taxpayer's return for compensation. If the return is prepared by a firm or corporation, it should be signed in the name of the firm or corporation. This verification is not required if the return is prepared by a regular, full-time employee of the taxpayer.

Instructions—Form 1120 (1959)

F. Failure to file, etc.—Substantial additions to the tax are imposed for failing to file a return, for late filing, and for filing a false or fraudulent return.

G-(1). Information at the source.—Every corporation making payments in the course of its trade or business of (1) interest, rents, commissions, or other fixed or determinable income of $600 or more during the calendar year 1959 to an individual, a partnership, or a fiduciary, or (2) salaries or wages of $600 or more shall make returns on Forms 1096 and 1099, except that the making of such returns will not be required with respect to salary or wage payments included on Form W-2, provided copies of withholding statements on Form W-2 are furnished. If a portion of such salary or wage payments was reported on a Withholding Statement (Form W-2), only the remainder must be reported on Form 1099.

Except as stated below, the returns on Forms 1096 and 1099 shall also include dividend payments totaling $10 or more during the calendar year 1959 to each shareholder who is an individual (citizen or resident of the United States), a resident fiduciary, or a resident partnership any member of which is a citizen or resident. In the case of payments by a building and loan association, a cooperative bank, a homestead association, a credit union, or a savings and loan association, such total shall be $600 or more. In the case of payments by a corporation described in sections 501 (c) (12), (15), (16), 521 and 522, or in the case of a national farm loan association or a production credit association, such total shall be $100 or more.

The returns on Forms 1096 and 1099 shall also include (except in the case of insurance companies taxable under Subchapter L and corporations exempt under section 501 (c) (12) or (15)) patronage dividends, rebates, and refunds totaling $100 or more during the calendar year 1959, whether in cash, merchandise, capital stock, revolving fund certificates, retain certificates, certificates of indebtedness, letters of advice, or in some other manner.

G-(2). Information regarding dissolution or liquidation.—Every corporation shall, within 30 days after the adoption by the corporation of a resolution or plan for the dissolution of the corporation or for the liquidation of the whole or any part of its capital stock, render a correct return on Form 966 setting forth the terms of such resolution or plan.

Every corporation making distributions in liquidation of the whole or any part of its capital stock shall also make returns on Forms 1096 and 1099L, as required by instructions on Form 1096, for the calendar year 1959.

G-(3). Certain transfers of property on or after January 1, 1951.—Under certain circumstances the $25,000 exemption from surtax and the $100,000 accumulated earnings credit are not allowed or may be reduced to a lesser figure. Section 1551 provides that if a corporation on or after January 1, 1951, transfers all or part of its property (other than money) to another corporation which was created for the purpose of acquiring such property or which was not actively engaged in business at the time of such acquisition and if after such transfer the transferor corporation or its stockholders, or both, are in control of such transferee corporation during any part of the taxable year of such transferee corporation, the transferee corporation shall not for such taxable year (except as may be otherwise determined under section 269 (b)) be allowed either the $25,000 exemption from surtax provided in section 11 (c) or the $100,000 accumulated earnings credit provided in section 535 (c), unless such transferee corporation shall establish by the clear preponderance of the evidence that the securing of such exemption or credit was not a major purpose of such transfer. For the purposes of section 1551, control means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or at least 80 percent of the total value of shares of all classes of stock of the corporation. Rules are provided in sections 544 and 1551 for determining ownership of stock. For allocation of the surtax exemption and the accumulated earnings credit in certain cases, see section 269 (b).

G-(4). Information regarding renegotiable contracts.—Every corporation which held, during the taxable year, contracts or subcontracts which were subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1951 shall, in answer to question K, page 3, state the actual or, if not accurately determinable, its best estimate of the aggregate gross dollar amount billed during the current taxable year under all contracts and/or subcontracts.

H. Returns of certain corporations. Domestic corporations entitled to benefits of section 931.—Domestic corporations within the possessions of the United States (except the Virgin Islands) may report as gross income only gross income from sources within the United States, provided (a) 80 percent or more of the gross income for the 3-year period immediately preceding the close of the taxable year (or such part thereof as may be applicable) was derived from sources within a possession of the United States, and (b) 50 percent or more of the gross income for such period or such part thereof was derived from the active conduct of a trade or business within a possession of the United States.

Resident foreign corporations.—Foreign corporations which at any time within the taxable year are engaged in trade or business within the United States shall make returns on Form 1120 of income derived from sources within the United States. (Section 882.)

Nonresident foreign corporations.—Foreign corporations not engaged in trade or business within the United States at any time within the taxable year are subject to tax upon gross income from sources within the United States (determined under the provisions of sections 861 through 864) consisting of fixed or determinable annual or periodical income and of certain gains derived from the disposal of timber and coal. Returns required from these corporations must be made on Form 1120NB.

Insurance companies.—Life insurance companies subject to tax imposed by section 802 shall make returns on Form 1120L. Mutual insurance companies subject to tax imposed by section 821 shall make returns on Form 1120M. Insurance companies described in section 831, and mutual savings banks described in section 594 and conducting life insurance business, shall make returns on Form 1120. There should be filed with the return a copy of the 1959 annual statement approved by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners which contains the underwriting and investment exhibit.

Regulated investment companies.—If for any given year the investment company satisfies the requirements of section 851 it will be considered a regulated investment company for that year.

Personal holding companies.—Section 541 imposes a tax upon the undistributed personal holding company income (as defined in section 545) of corporations classified as personal holding companies. Every personal holding company must file a schedule 1120PH with its return on Form 1120.

Under the provisions of section 542, a corporation is a "personal holding company" if at least 80 percent of its gross income for the taxable year is personal holding company income as defined in section 543, and if at any time during the last half of the taxable year more than 50 percent in value of its outstanding stock is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for not more than five individuals. (Sections 541-547.)

Foreign personal holding companies.—Section 551 (a) requires that the undistributed foreign personal holding company income of a foreign personal holding company, as defined in section 552, shall be included as a dividend in the gross income of the United States shareholders in the amount provided by subsection (b). Schedule 1120PH is not required, but information returns on Forms 957 and 958 must be filed by the officers, directors, and certain United States shareholders as provided by section 6035 and the regulations thereunder.

A foreign corporation which is a personal holding company, as defined in section 542 but not within the definition of section 552, is subject to the tax imposed by section 541 on undistributed personal holding company income and must file a schedule 1120PH with its return.

Exempt organizations.—Section 511 imposes a tax upon the income derived from an unrelated trade or business of certain exempt organizations. Every such organization subject to this tax must file a Form 990-T.

Exempt farmers' cooperatives.—Section 522 imposes a tax upon certain cooperatives exempt under section 521. Every such organization subject to tax must file Form 990-C.

Small business corporations.—Corporations which qualify and elect under section 1372 (a) to have their taxable income taxed directly to the shareholders (rather than to the corporation), must file Form 1120-S, instead of Form 1120. To qualify for this treatment, a company must be a domestic corporation which is not a member of an affiliated group (as defined in section 1504) and which does not have (1) more than 10 shareholders; (2) a shareholder (other than an estate) who is not an individual; (3) a shareholder who is a nonresident alien; and (4) more than one class of stock.

I. Consolidated returns.—Subject to the provisions of sections 1501 through 1552 and the regulations, an affiliated group of corporations may make a consolidated income tax return in lieu of separate returns. The making of a consolidated return shall be upon the condition that all corporations which at any time during the taxable year have been members of the affiliated group consent to all the consolidated return regulations prescribed under section 1502 prior to the last day prescribed by law for the filing of such return. The common parent corporation, when filing a consolidated return, shall attach thereto a schedule showing the names and addresses of all the corporations included in the return. Form 851, Affiliations Schedule, should be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue and filed as a part of the return. Each subsidiary must prepare two signed copies of Form 1122 authorizing the making of the return on its behalf. One such form shall be attached to the consolidated return as a part thereof, and the other shall be filed, at or before the time the consolidated return is filed, in the office of the District Director for the subsidiary's district.

Supporting schedules shall be filed with the consolidated return. These schedules shall be prepared in columnar form, one column being provided for each corporation included in the consolidation, showing in detail the items of gross income and deductions and the computation of taxable income; one column for a total of like items before adjustments are made; one column for intercompany eliminations and adjustments; and one column for a total of like items after giving effect to the eliminations and adjustments. The items included in the column for eliminations and adjustments should be symbolized to identify contra items affected, and suitable explanations appended, if necessary. Similar schedules shall also contain in columnar form a reconciliation of surplus for each corporation, together with a reconciliation of the consolidated surplus. A schedule which sets forth the basis of property transferred to or received from an affiliated, subsidiary, or parent corporation must also be attached.

Consolidated balance sheets as of the beginning and close of the taxable year of the group shall accompany the consolidated return in a form similar to that required for reconciliation of surplus.

J. Tax on improperly accumulated earnings.—In order to prevent accumulation of earnings and profits for the purpose of enabling shareholders to avoid the tax on individuals, section 531 provides an additional tax upon the accumulated taxable income of corporations formed or availed of for the purpose of such tax avoidance.

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS (Numbered to correspond with the line numbers on page 1)

2. Cost of goods sold.—If the production, manufacture, purchase, or sale of merchandise is an income-determining factor in the trade or business, inventories of merchandise on hand should be taken at the beginning and end of the taxable year, and may be valued at cost, or at cost or market, whichever is lower, or by any other permissible method.

An inventory method once properly adopted is controlling until permission to change is obtained from the Commissioner. Application for permission to change an inventory method shall be made in writing and filed with the Commissioner within 90 days after the beginning of the taxable year in which it is desired to effect a change. In case the inventories reported do not agree with the balance sheet, attach a statement explaining the difference.

A corporation electing to use the last-in, first-out method of valuing inventory provided for in section 472 must file Form 970 with the return for the first year of the election. Thereafter, attach separate schedule showing: (1) a summary of all inventories; (2) with respect to any inventories computed under section 472, the computation of the quantities and cost by acquisition levels.

Cost of operations (where inventories are not an income-determining factor).—If the amount entered on line 2 includes an amount applicable to cost of operations, attach a schedule showing: (1) Salaries and wages; and (2) other costs in detail.

5. Interest on obligations of the United States, etc.—Enter the interest on line 5; and in Schedule L, the amounts of the various obligations owned. Also enter on line 3, Schedule M, all interest

K. Stock ownership in foreign corporations.—In addition to the information to be shown in Schedule C of the return, a corporation owning directly or indirectly any stock of a foreign corporation must attach a statement showing the name and address of each company and the total number of shares of each class of outstanding stock owned during the taxable year. If the corporation owned 5 percent or more in value of the outstanding stock of a foreign personal holding company, attach a statement setting forth in complete detail the information required by section 551 (d).

L. Balance sheets.—The balance sheets, Schedule L, should agree with the books of account or any differences should be reconciled. The balance sheets for a consolidated return of affiliated corporations should be furnished in accordance with Instruction I. All corporations reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission or to any National, State, municipal, or other public officer, may submit, in lieu of Schedule L, copies of their balance sheets prescribed by such authorities as at the beginning and end of the taxable year.

Line 10, Schedule L, should show land less any accumulated amortization of the land as an emergency facility under the authority of sections 124 and 124A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 or section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

Line 15, Schedule L, should be used by banks, building and loan associations, and other financial institutions to report demand and time deposits of customers, including withdrawable shares, share accounts, and investment certificates.

M. Forms other than prescribed by return.—Banks, insurance companies, and other corporations required to submit substantially similar statements of income and expenses to any National, State, municipal, or other public officer may submit with the return a statement of income and expenses in the form furnished to such officer, in lieu of the information requested in lines 1 to 28, page 1, except that a railroad company may submit with the return a statement on Form 1090. In such cases the taxable income will be reconciled by means of Schedule M with the net profits shown by the income and expense statement submitted, and should be entered as line 28, page 1.

N. Attachments.—Attachments may be used in the preparation of your return and supplemental schedules, provided they contain all of the required information and that summarized totals of the items shown in the attachments are entered on the return and schedules. This does not apply to any tax computation portion of a form or schedule.

O. Total assets.—Enter the total assets as of the end of the taxable year as shown on line 13, Schedule L. In the event there are no assets at the end of the taxable year, show the total assets as of the beginning of the taxable year.

received or accrued during the year on the various obligations listed therein. The net amount of interest reported on line 5 (a) is also allowable as a deduction. See the instructions for Schedule I. The amount of interest received or accrued on obligations issued on or after March 1, 1941, by the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof should be entered on line 5 (b). For provisions relating to amortizable bond premiums, see section 171.

For special rules applicable to dealers in securities, with respect to premium attributable to certain tax-exempt securities, see section 75.

Non-interest-bearing obligations issued at a discount.—Taxpayers on the cash basis may elect, as to all non-interest-bearing obligations issued at a discount and redeemable for fixed amounts increasing at stated intervals (for example, United States Savings Bonds), to include the increase in redemption price applicable to the current year. For the year of election the total increase in redemption price of such obligations occurring between the date of acquisition and the end of the year must be included. Attach statement listing obligations owned and computation of the increase. (Section 454.)

6. Other interest.—Enter on line 6, the amount of interest on loans, notes, mortgages, bonds, bank deposits, corporate bonds, etc. The term "corporate bonds" includes bonds, debentures, notes, certificates of indebtedness, or other evidences of indebtedness issued by any corporation and bearing interest, with interest coupons or in registered form. For provisions relating to amortizable bond premium, see section 171.

7. Enter in the right-hand column the amount reported as rents in (a) plus the amount reported as royalties in (b).

(a) Rents.—Enter the gross amount received for the rent of property. Any expenses, including repairs, interest, taxes, and depreciation should be included in the proper lines for deductions. In the case of a lease entered into prior to January 1, 1954, if both lessor and lessee are corporations and if under the lease the lessee is obligated to pay any part of the lessor's income tax on the rental payment, this tax is excluded from lessor's gross income and may not be deducted by lessee. (Section 110.)

(b) Royalties.—Enter the gross amount received as royalties. If a deduction is claimed for depletion, it must be reported on line 18 (b).

8. Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and other property.—The computation of gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and property other than capital assets should be made on separate Schedule D and filed with Form 1120. Every sale or exchange of property, even though no gain or loss is indicated, must be reported in detail. If for any taxable year the net long-term capital gain exceeds the net short-term capital loss, or in case of only a net long-term capital gain, a computation of the alternative tax should be made on separate Schedule D.

9. Other income.—Enter total amount of other income not reported elsewhere in the return and attach schedule showing details.

13. Repairs.—Enter the cost of incidental repairs, including labor, supplies, and other items, which do not add to the value or appreciably prolong the life of the property. Expenditures for new buildings, machinery, equipment, or for permanent improvements or betterments which increase the value of the property are chargeable to capital account.

14. Enter in the right-hand column the amount deducted as bad debts in (a) plus the amount deducted as rents in (b).

(a) Bad debts.—Bad debts may be treated in either of two ways—(1) by a deduction from income in respect of debts which become worthless in whole or in part, or (2) by a deduction from income of a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. (Section 166.)

A taxpayer filing a first return of income may select either of the two methods, and that method must be followed for subsequent years, unless permission is granted by the Commissioner to change to the other method. Application for permission to change the method shall be made in writing at least 30 days prior to the close of the taxable year for which it is desired to effect the change.

Worthless debts arising from unpaid rents, and similar items of taxable income, will not be allowed as a deduction unless the income such items represent has been included in the return of income for the year for which the bad debt deduction is claimed, or for a previous year.

For treatment of bad debts of a mutual savings bank not having capital stock represented by shares, a domestic building and loan association, and a cooperative bank without capital stock organized and operated for mutual purposes and without profit, see section 593 and the regulations thereunder.

(b) Rents.—Enter rent paid or accrued for business property in which the corporation has no equity. With respect to leases entered into prior to January 1, 1954, see instruction No. 7(a).

15. Enter in the right-hand column the amount deducted as taxes in (a) plus the amount deducted as interest in (b).

(a) Taxes.—Enter taxes paid or accrued during the taxable year. Do not include Federal income, war-profits, and excess-profits taxes; estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes; foreign or United States possession income taxes if any credit is claimed in line 6 (tax computation); Federal taxes paid on bonds containing a tax-free covenant, nor taxes not imposed upon the taxpayer. See section 164 (d) regarding apportionment of taxes on real property between seller and purchaser.

(b) Interest.—Enter interest paid or accrued on business indebtedness. Do not include in line 15(b) interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations (other than obligations of the United States issued after September 24, 1917, and originally subscribed for by the taxpayer) the interest on which is wholly exempt from income tax. (Section 265.)

See section 267 for limitation on deductions for unpaid expenses and interest in the case of transactions between related taxpayers.

16. Contributions or gifts paid.—Enter contributions or gifts actually paid within the taxable year to or for the use of (1) a

State, a Territory, a possession of the United States, or any political subdivision of any of the foregoing, or the United States or the District of Columbia for exclusively public purposes; (2) a corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, created or organized in the United States or in any possession thereof or under the law of the United States, or of any State or Territory, or of the District of Columbia, or of any possession of the United States, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or the prevention of cruelty to children or animals (but in the case of contributions or gifts to a trust, chest, fund, or foundation only if such contributions or gifts are to be used within the United States or any of its possessions exclusively for such purposes), no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation; (3) posts or organizations of war veterans, or auxiliary units of, or trusts or foundations for, any such posts or organizations, if such posts, organizations, units, trusts, or foundations are organized in the United States or any of its possessions, and if no part of their net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual; or (4) nonprofit cemetery or burial companies. The amount claimed shall not exceed 5 percent of the corporation's taxable income computed without regard to (1) this deduction, (2) the "special deductions" in line 27, and (3) any net operating loss carryback to the taxable year under section 172.

In the case of a corporation on the accrual basis, any contribution or gift will, at the election of the taxpayer made at the time the return is filed, be considered as paid during the taxable year if payment is actually made on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable year, and if the contribution or gift has during the taxable year been authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. A copy of such authorization must be attached to the return.

Do not deduct as a business expense charitable contributions which come within the above description, but which are unallowable in whole or in part because of the limitation contained in section 170. (Section 162 (b).)

Any contributions paid during the taxable year in excess of the amount deductible may be carried over and deducted in the two succeeding taxable years subject to the 5 percent limitation provided in section 170 (b) (2). In a taxable year to which there is a net operating loss carryover and charitable contributions in excess of the amount deductible (or a charitable contribution carryover from a preceding taxable year), see section 170 (b) (3).

Attach a schedule showing the name and address of each organization and the amount paid. If there is included a contribution carryover, show the amount and how the carryover was determined.

17. Losses by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or theft.—Enter losses sustained during the year, arising from fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty. For determination of the amount deductible, see section 165 (b). Theft losses are deductible only in the year in which discovered.

18. Enter in the right-hand column the amount deducted as amortization in (a) plus the amount deducted as depletion in (b).

(a) Amortization.—If a deduction is claimed on account of amortization, attach a schedule showing: (1) A description of the facilities or expenditures being amortized; (2) date acquired, completed, or expended; (3) amount being amortized; (4) amortization deducted in prior years; (5) amortization period (number of months); (6) amortization for this year; and (7) the total amount of amortization less the amount claimed in Schedule A and elsewhere on the return. A summary of the total amortization for each facility or expenditure must be shown in Schedule 11.

The law makes special provisions for amortization of the following kinds of assets and expenditures:

- (a) Emergency facilities.—Section 168;
- (b) Grain storage facilities.—Section 169;
- (c) Research and experimental expenditures.—Section 174;
- (d) Exploration expenditures.—Section 615;
- (e) Development expenditures.—Section 616;
- (f) Organizational expenses.—Section 248; and
- (g) Trade-mark and trade-name expenditures.—Section 177.

For details concerning the information which must be furnished in the statements of election required by these sections, consult your District Director.

(b) Depletion.—If a deduction is claimed on account of depletion, procure from the District Director: Form M (mines and other natural deposits), Form O (oil and gas), or Form T (timber), fill in and file with return. If complete valuation data have been filed with questionnaire in previous years, then file with your return information necessary to bring your depletion schedule up to date, setting forth in full statement of all transactions bearing on deductions from or additions to value of physical assets during the taxable year with explanation of how depletion deduction for the taxable year has been determined. (Sections 611, 612, and 613.) Expenditures to be deferred and deducted ratably under the election provided in sections 616 (b), relating to certain expenditures in the development of mines, and 615 (b), relating to deductions for mine exploration, are not to be taken into account in determining the adjusted basis for property for the purpose of computing a deduction for depletion under section 611.

19. Depreciation.—If a deduction is claimed on account of depreciation, fill in Schedule G. A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business or of property held by the taxpayer for the production of income shall be allowed as a depreciation deduction. (Section 167.) The allowance does not apply to inventories or stock-in-trade nor to land apart from the improvements or physical developments added to it. Depreciation on leasehold improvements, patents and copyrights shall be included in Schedule G.

The useful life of an asset can be measured in units of production, etc., but the ordinary practice is to measure useful life in years. Business experience, engineering information, and other relevant factors provide a reasonable basis for estimating the useful life of property. The cost (or other basis) to be recovered should be charged off over the expected life of the property to the taxpayer. For guidance, comprehensive tables of "average useful lives" of various kinds of buildings, machines, and equipment in many industries and businesses have been published in a booklet called Bulletin F, which may be purchased for 30 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. A brief description of the various methods of depreciation follows:

(a) Straight line method.—The most common method of computing depreciation is the "straight line" method. It allows for the recovery of cost in equal annual amounts over the estimated useful life of the property, with only salvage value remaining at the end of its useful life. To compute the deduction, add the cost of improvements to the cost (or other basis) of the asset and deduct both the estimated salvage value and the total depreciation allowed or allowable in past years. Divide the result by the number of years of useful life remaining to the asset—the quotient is the depreciation deduction.

(b) Declining balance method.—Under this method a uniform rate is applied each year to the remaining cost or other basis of property (without adjustment for salvage value) determined at the beginning of such year. For property acquired before January 1, 1954, or used property whenever acquired, the rate of depreciation under this method may not exceed one and one-half times the applicable straight-line rate.

(c) Special rules for new assets acquired after December 31, 1953.—The cost or other basis of an asset acquired after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper in the past; or, it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided (1) that the asset is tangible, (2) that it has an estimated useful life of three years or more to the taxpayer, and (3) that the original use of the asset commenced with the taxpayer and commenced after December 31, 1953. If an asset is constructed, reconstructed, or erected by the taxpayer, so much of the basis of the asset as is attributable to construction, reconstruction, or erection after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper in the past; or, it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided that the asset meets qualifications (1) and (2) above.

(1) Declining balance method.—This method may be used with a rate not in excess of twice the applicable straight-line rate.

(2) Sum of the years-digit method.—Under this method annual allowances for depreciation are computed by applying changing fractions to the taxpayer's cost or other basis of property (reduced by estimated salvage).

The deduction for each year is computed by multiplying the cost or other basis of the asset (reduced by estimated salvage value) by the number of years of useful life remaining (including the year for which the deduction is computed) and dividing the product by the sum of all the digits corresponding to the years of the estimated useful life of the asset. In the case of a 5-year life this sum would be 15 or $(5+4+3+2+1)$. For the first year five-fifteenths of the cost reduced by estimated salvage value would be allowable, for the second year four-fifteenths, etc.

(3) Other methods.—A taxpayer may use any consistent method which does not result in accumulated allowances at the end of any year greater than the total of the accumulated allowances which would have resulted from the use of the declining balance method. This limitation applies only during the first two-thirds of the useful life of the property.

(d) Section 179—Additional first-year depreciation allowance.—Corporations may elect to write off in the year of acquisition 20 percent of the cost of tangible personal property having an aggregate value of not more than $10,000. This additional first-year depreciation is allowed in full for the first taxable year for which a deduction is allowable under section 167, regardless of the date of acquisition. The cost of property does not include so much of the basis of such property as is determined by reference to the basis of other property held at any time by the person acquiring such property. This additional depreciation is limited to property acquired after December 31, 1957, with a remaining useful life of 6 years or more and which is not acquired from an affiliated corporation (as defined in section 1504, except that "more than 50 percent" stock ownership is substituted for "at least 80 percent" wherever it appears in section 1504 (a)). All members of the affiliated group will be treated as one taxpayer, and the $10,000 limitation will be apportioned among the members in the manner prescribed by regulations. Further, for this allowance to apply in any case, the basis of the property must not be determined in whole or in part by reference to the transferor's basis. Depreciation on the remaining cost of the property may be taken under any of the methods indicated above. The additional first-year depreciation of an asset should be shown on a separate line of the depreciation schedule rather than included on the line used to show the regular depreciation of the asset.

A summary of the total depreciation for each method must be shown in Schedule H.

20. Advertising.—Enter on line 20 the total amount paid or incurred during the year for advertising. Expenditures for advertising, to be deductible, must be ordinary and necessary and bear a reasonable relation to the business activities in which the corporation is engaged.

21. (a) Pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity plans.—Enter on line 21 (a) the total amount deductible under section 404. A corporation claiming a deduction under section 404 must submit with its return, in addition to the information specified in the regulations concerning such deduction, a statement with respect to each plan showing the type of plan, i. e., pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity, or other plan deferring the receipt of compensation, whether or not the plan is qualified under section 401 (a), and if trustee, whether or not the trust is exempt under section 501 (a), and the method of funding, i. e., individual annuity or insurance contracts, group annuity contract, group permanent contract, or self-insured trust. If not funded, so indicate. Contributions paid by an employer to or under a pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity plan or compensation paid or accrued on account of any employee under a plan deferring the receipt of such compensation, are deductible only under section 404, and are not deductible under section 162.

(b) Other employee benefit plans.—Enter on line 21 (b) deductions for contributions to employee benefit plans (other than those claimed on line 21 (a), such as insurance, health, or welfare plans. Submit with the return a schedule for each plan showing (1) the nature of benefits, i. e., group term life insurance, group permanent life insurance, noninsured death benefit, hospitalization, surgical, medical, sickness, accident, major medical expense, unemployment benefit, or other welfare benefits; (2) method of financing, i. e., insured, industry or areawide fund, self-insured fund, or direct benefit payments; (3) the amount of deduction; (4) the amount of employee contributions; (5) the number of employees covered; and (6) if a self-insured plan, the amount of benefits paid during the taxable year. Also show the number of employees employed by the corporation.

22. Other deductions authorized by law.—Enter on line 22 any other authorized deductions for which no space is provided on the return. Any deduction claimed should be explained in an attached schedule.

No deduction is allowable for the amount of any item or part thereof allocable to a class of exempt income other than interest. For nonallowance of interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry tax-exempt securities, see instruction 15 (b). Items directly attributable to wholly exempt income shall be allocated thereto, and items directly attributable to any class of taxable income shall be allocated to such taxable income. If an item is indirectly attributable both to taxable income and exempt income, a reasonable proportion thereof, determined in the light of all the facts and circumstances in each case, shall be allocated to each. A taxpayer receiving any such exempt income, or holding any property or engaging in any activity the income from which is exempt shall submit with its return as a part thereof an itemized statement, in detail, showing (1) the amount of each class of exempt income, and (2) the amount of expense items allocated to each such class (the amount allocated by apportionment being shown separately).

In the case of mutual savings banks, cooperative banks, and domestic building and loan associations, any amounts paid or credited to the accounts of depositors or holders of accounts as dividends on their deposits or withdrawable accounts, if such amounts may be withdrawn on demand subject only to customary notice of intention to withdraw, are allowable deductions in computing taxable income. (Section 591.)

Under section 592 a special deduction in computing taxable income is allowed a mutual savings bank not having capital stock represented by shares, a domestic building and loan association, or a cooperative bank without capital stock organized and operated for mutual purposes and without profit, for repayment during the taxable year of loans made before September 1, 1951, by the United States or its wholly owned agencies, or by a mutual fund established under the authority of State law.

25. Net operating loss deduction.—The "net operating loss deduction" is the sum of the net operating loss carryovers and carrybacks to the taxable year. (Section 172 (a).) A net operating loss for taxable years ending after December 31, 1957, may be carried back 3 years and carried over 5 years. The net operating loss must first be carried to the earliest of the 8 taxable years to which it may be carried, then to the next earliest year, etc. The portion of such loss which shall be carried to each of the other 7 taxable years shall be the excess, if any, of the amount of such loss over the sum of the taxable income for each of the prior taxable years to which such loss may be carried. (Section 172 (b).)

The term "net operating loss" means, for taxable years ending

after December 31, 1953, the excess of allowable deductions over gross income, computed with the following modifications:

(a) No net operating loss deduction is allowed.

(b) The special deductions provided in section 242 (partially tax-exempt interest) and section 922 (Western Hemisphere trade corporations) are not allowed.

(c) The special deductions allowed by section 243 (dividends received by corporations), section 244 (dividends received on certain preferred stock of public utilities), and section 245 (dividends received from certain foreign corporations) are computed without regard to the 85-percent limitation provided in section 246 (b). See section 1.172-2 of the regulations.

(d) The special deduction allowed by section 247 (dividends paid on certain preferred stock of public utilities) is computed without regard to the provisions of subsection (a) (1) (B) of such section. (Section 172 (d).)

As stated, the net operating loss deduction is the sum of the carryovers and carrybacks. However, the following modifications must be taken into account in determining the taxable income for any year which must be subtracted from a net operating loss to determine the portion of such loss which will still be available to carry to a subsequent year:

(a) The special deductions provided in sections 242 (partially tax-exempt interest) and 922 (Western Hemisphere trade corporations) are not allowed.

(b) The amount of the net operating loss deduction is determined without regard to the net operating loss for the loss year or any taxable year thereafter.

With respect to all taxable years, whether they begin before, on, or after January 1, 1954, in determining the amount of any net operating loss carryback or carryover to any taxable year, the necessary computations involving any other taxable year must be made under the law applicable to such other taxable year. (Section 172 (e).)

If the corporation desires prompt adjustment for an overpayment attributable to a net operating loss carryback, an application for a tentative adjustment should be filed on Form 1139 within 12 months after the close of the taxable year in which the net operating loss is sustained. (Section 6411.)

For treatment of net operating loss carryovers in certain corporate acquisitions, see section 381.

For special limitation on net operating loss carryovers in case of a corporate change of ownership, see section 382.

Section 852 (b) (2) provides that no net operating loss deduction shall be allowed in the case of a regulated investment company.

27. Special deductions.—See the instructions for Schedule I.

SCHEDULE I—SPECIAL DEDUCTIONS

1. Partially tax-exempt interest.—Enter the amount received as interest on obligations of the United States or on obligations of corporations organized under Act of Congress which are instrumentalities of the United States, but only if (1) such interest is included in gross income; and (2) such interest is exempt from normal tax under the Act authorizing the issuance of such obligations. This deduction must be reduced by any amortizable bond premium as provided in section 171.

2. Dividends received deductions.—(a) Dividends received from a domestic corporation.—Enter an amount equal to 85 percent of the amount received as dividends (except dividends on certain preferred stock of public utilities) from a domestic corporation subject to income tax. Amounts received as dividends from mutual savings banks, cooperative banks, and domestic building and loan associations and allowed as a deduction to such banks or building and loan associations shall not be treated as dividends. In the case of dividends received from a regulated investment company, see section 854 regarding limitations on amount deductible. For taxable years beginning after September 2, 1958, a small business investment company operating under the Small Business Investment Act of 1958 can take as a deduction an amount equal to 100 percent of the dividends received.

(b) Dividends received on certain preferred stock of public utilities.—Enter 62.115 percent for taxable years beginning prior to July 1, 1960 (59.681 percent for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1960), of the amount received as dividends on the preferred stock of a public utility which is subject to income tax and is allowed a deduction, as provided in section 247, for dividends paid.

(c) Dividends received from certain foreign corporations.—

Enter 85 percent of dividends received from certain foreign corporations. See section 245 for qualifications and limitations on the amount of this deduction.

In general, no dividend-received deduction will be allowed on any share of stock (A) which is sold or otherwise disposed of in any case in which the corporation has held such share for 15 days or less, or (B) to the extent the corporation is under an obligation to make corresponding payments with respect to substantially identical stock or securities. Where the stock has preference in dividends, the holding period is 90 days instead of 15 if the corporation receives dividends with respect to such stock which are attributable to a period or periods aggregating in excess of 366 days.

3. Total dividends-received deductions.—In a year in which a net operating loss occurs, sections 172 (d) and 246 (b) provide that the 85-percent limitation on the amount of these special deductions shall not apply. In the case of a small business investment company, the dividends received deduction of 100 percent reported on line 36 (a) is not subject to the overall 85 percent limitation.

4. Deduction for dividends paid on certain preferred stock of public utilities.—In the case of a public utility there is allowed, in accordance with section 247, an amount equal to 26.923 percent for taxable years beginning prior to July 1, 1960 (29.787 percent for taxable years beginning on or after July 1, 1960), of the lesser of (1) the amount of dividends paid on its preferred stock during the taxable year, or (2) the taxable income for the taxable year computed without regard to the deduction provided in section 247. In a year in which a net operating loss occurs, section 172 (d) provides that this special deduction shall be computed without regard to section 247 (a) (1) (B).

5. Deductions for Western Hemisphere trade corporations.—In the case of a Western Hemisphere trade corporation, as defined in section 921, there is allowed under section 922 a deduction equal to 26.923 percent for taxable years beginning prior to July 1, 1960 (29.787 percent for taxable years beginning on or after July

1, 1960), of the taxable income of such corporation computed without regard to the deduction provided in section 922. Under the provisions of section 172 (d), this special deduction is not allowed in a year in which a net operating loss occurs.

TAX COMPUTATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Normal tax.—Section 11 provides a normal tax for taxable years beginning before July 1, 1960, equal to 30 percent of taxable income. In the case of a taxable year beginning after June 30, 1960, the normal tax is equal to 25 percent of taxable income.

2. Surtax.—Section 11 provides a surtax equal to 22 percent of the amount by which the taxable income (computed without regard to the deduction, if any, provided in section 242 for partially tax-exempt interest) exceeds $25,000.

3. Exceptions.—The tax imposed by section 11 shall not apply to a corporation subject to a tax imposed by—(1) section 594 (relating to mutual savings banks conducting life insurance business), (2) subchapter L (section 801 and following, relating to insurance companies), (3) subchapter M (section 851 and following, relating to regulated investment companies), or (4) section 881 (a) (relating to foreign corporations not engaged in business in United States).

4. Change in accounting period.—Under the provisions of section 443 (b) (1) if a corporation changes its accounting period, the taxable income for the short period beginning on the day after the close of the former taxable year and ending at the close of the day before the day designated as the first day of the new taxable year shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by 12 and dividing by the number of months in the short period. The tax shall be that same part of the tax computed on the annual basis which the number of months in the short period is of 12 months.

However, taxpayers may elect to compute the tax for the short period according to the method described below if an application to do so is filed not later than the date when (giving effect to any extensions granted) the return for the first full taxable year after the beginning of the short period must be filed. (Section 443 (b) (2).) For details concerning the form and content of such an application, consult your District Director.

If a proper application is filed, the taxpayer may elect to pay whichever tax under the following two methods is greater, in place of the short period tax under section 443 (b) (1): (1) Establish the actual taxable income for the 12 months beginning with the first day of the short period; then compute the tax on that income. Then determine as a short period tax that part of the tax so computed which bears the same proportion to the total tax so computed as the taxable income of the short period bears to the taxable income of the 12 months. However, a taxpayer which distributes substantially all its assets before the end of the 12-month period described above, shall employ in the above computation the 12-month period ending with the last day of the short period. (2) Compute a tax on the taxable income of the short period as if the short period were a full taxable year.

In annualizing income of a short period consisting of 7 days or more, but less than 359 days, by reason of a change to a 52–53 week fiscal year, the annualization is made on a daily basis as provided in section 441 (f) (2) (B) (iii).

5. Consolidated returns.—Section 1503 provides that the tax imposed under section 11 (c) or section 831 shall be increased for any taxable year for which an affiliated group of includible corporations makes or is required to make a consolidated return by 2 percent of the consolidated taxable income (computed without regard to the deduction, if any, provided in section 242 for partially tax-exempt interest). If the affiliated group includes one or more Western Hemisphere trade corporations or one or more regulated public utilities, the increase of 2 percent shall be applied only on the amount by which the consolidated taxable income of the affiliated group exceeds the portion (if any) of the consolidated taxable income attributable to the Western Hemisphere trade corporations and regulated public utilities included in such group.

6. Insurance companies other than life or mutual.—All insurance companies (other than life or mutual insurance companies), including mutual marine insurance companies and mutual fire insurance companies exclusively issuing either perpetual policies or policies for which the sole premium charged is a single deposit, are subject to the taxes imposed by section 11. The taxable income of such insurance companies is defined in section 832 and differs from the taxable income of other corporations. This paragraph does not apply to foreign insurance companies not carrying on an insurance business within the United States. (Section 831.)

7. Life insurance departments of mutual savings banks.—A mutual savings bank not having capital stock represented by shares, authorized under State law to conduct a life insurance business and which conducts such business in a separate department the accounts of which are maintained separately from the accounts of other departments of the bank is taxable under section 594 provided the life insurance department would, if it were treated as a separate corporation, qualify as a life insurance company under section 801.

The tax consists of the sum of—(1) a partial tax computed under section 11 upon the taxable income of the bank determined without regard to any items of gross income or deductions properly allocable to the business of the life insurance department; and (2) a partial tax upon the taxable income (computed as provided in section 802) of the life insurance department determined without regard to any items of gross income or deductions not properly allocable to such department, at the rates and in the manner provided in subchapter L with respect to life insurance companies.

Tax computation.—For the purpose of computing the first partial tax, a mutual savings bank should use Form 1120, filling in all applicable items (except lines 5 and 7) and schedules. The first partial tax should be computed by using lines 1 to 5. For the purpose of computing the second partial tax Form 1120L should be used. The first partial tax should be added to the second partial tax and the sum thereof entered on line 5 as the total income tax. Subtract from line 5 the sum of any credits on line 6 and enter on line 7 the balance of income tax. Form 1120L properly filled in should be attached to and made a part of Form 1120 and properly identified as an accompanying schedule. However, any Form 1120L so used need not be separately executed under the penalty of perjury.

8. Credit for taxes.—If, in accordance with section 901, a credit is claimed by a domestic corporation on line 6 (Tax Computation), page 3, on account of income, war profits and excess profits taxes paid or accrued to a foreign country or a possession of the United States, Form 1118 should be submitted with the return. In case credit is sought for taxes accrued but not paid, the District Director may require a bond on Form 1119 as a condition precedent to the allowance of the credit. For carryback and carryover of a foreign tax credit, see section 904 (c).

If the corporation is entitled to a credit for taxes paid by a regulated investment company on undistributed capital gains, include the credit on line 30 (b), page 1, and indicate by amount that such a credit is being claimed. Attach Copy B of Form 2439 to page 1 of the Form 1120.

9. Overpayment credited to estimated tax.—If the taxpayer elects to have all or part of the overpayment shown by his return applied to his estimated tax for his succeeding taxable year, no interest shall be allowed on such portion of the overpayment credited.

10. Resident foreign corporations.—Foreign corporations engaged in trade or business within the United States are subject to tax on their income from sources within the United States at the rates specified in section 11. (Section 882.)

11. Regulated investment companies.—For provisions relating to the method of taxation of regulated investment companies, see sections 851 through 855.

Instructions for the 1959 Form 1120-S U. S. Small Business Corporation Return of Income

(References are to the Internal Revenue Code)

A. Corporations required to file Form 1120-S.—Every small business corporation (as defined in section 1371 (a)) which has filed a proper and timely election under section 1372 (a) not to be subject to the income tax imposed by chapter 1 must file Form 1120-S. See Form 2553.

B. Consents of shareholders.—Consents of all shareholders are required to be attached to the election form notifying the District Director of the election. However, where the election was made before the first day of the taxable year, the consents of persons who became shareholders after the date of election and on or before such first day must be filed with the District Director with whom the election was filed as soon as practicable after such first day and in no event later than the last day prescribed for making the election. Copies of such latter consents must be attached to the Form 1120-S at the time the return is filed.

New shareholders (any person who was not a shareholder on the first day of the first taxable year for which the election is effective, or on the day on which the election is made, whichever is later) must consent to the election and such statement of consent must be filed with the District Director with whom the election was filed within a period of 30 days after they become shareholders or the election is automatically terminated. Copies of such consents must also be attached to the return.

C. Termination.—The election by the corporation is automatically terminated (1) by the failure of a new shareholder to consent to such election as explained in B above; (2) where it ceases to be a small business corporation as defined in section 1371 (a); (3) where it derives more than 80 percent of its gross receipts from sources outside the U. S.; or (4) where it has gross receipts of which more than 20 percent is derived from royalties, rents, dividends, interest, annuities, and sales or exchanges of stock or securities (gross receipts from sales or exchanges being taken into account for this purpose only to the extent of gains therefrom). Such termination is effective for the taxable year in which anyone of the foregoing occurs and for all succeeding taxable years of the corporation.

The election may be revoked for any taxable year after the first taxable year for which the election is effective. An election to revoke may be made only if all persons who are shareholders on the day on which the revocation is made consent to the revocation. The revocation is effective (1) for the taxable year in which made, if made before the close of the first month of the taxable year, or (2) for the taxable year following the taxable year in which made, if made after the close of the first month; and for all succeeding taxable years. The revocation is to be made in the manner prescribed by regulations.

Where the small business corporation has elected under section 1372 (a) and the election has been terminated or revoked, the corporation is not eligible to again elect under 1372 (a) for five years unless the Secretary or his delegate consents to such an election.

D. Period to be covered by return.—The return shall be filed for the calendar year 1959 or other taxable year beginning in 1959.

E. Time and place for filing.—The return must be filed on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the taxable year with the District Director of Internal Revenue for the district in which the corporation's principal place of business or principal office or agency is located. (Section 6072.)

F. Signature and verification.—The return must be signed either by the president, vice president, treasurer, assistant treasurer or chief accounting officer, or by any other corporate officer (such as tax officer) who is authorized to sign. A receiver, trustee, or assignee must sign any return which he is required to file on behalf of a corporation. The statement at the bottom of page 1 of the return is required to be signed by any person, firm, or corporation who prepared the taxpayer's return for compensation. If the return is prepared by a firm or corporation, it should be signed in the name of the firm or corporation. The statement is not required if the return is prepared by a regular fulltime employee of the taxpayer.

G. Penalties.—Severe penalties are provided by law for willful failure to make and file a return on time and for willful attempt to evade or defeat payment of tax.

H. Accounting methods.—Taxable income shall be computed in accordance with the method of accounting regularly used by the taxpayer in maintaining its books and records. In all cases the method adopted should clearly reflect taxable income. The basic methods of accounting are the "cash receipts and disbursements method" and the "accrual method." Section 446 permits the use of these methods or any other method permitted under the Code or any combination of these methods in accordance with regulations. If a taxpayer engages in more than one trade or business, it may, with respect to each trade or business, use a different method of accounting. Each method must, however, clearly reflect the income of the particular trade or business with which it is used, and separate profit and loss statements for each trade or business must be submitted. Except in those cases where the law specifically permits it, a taxpayer may not change the method of accounting upon the basis of which it has reported its income in prior years (for its income as a whole or with respect to any separate trade or business) without first securing consent. For procedure to be followed in securing consent, see your District Director.

Rounding off to whole-dollar amounts.—If you wish, the money items on your return or accompanying schedules required by such return may be shown as whole-dollar amounts. This means that you eliminate any amount less than 50 cents, and increase any amount from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next highest dollar.

I. (1) Information at the source.—Every corporation making payments in the course of its trade or business of (1) interest, rents, commissions, or other fixed or determinable income of $600 or more during the calendar year 1959 to an individual, a partnership, or a fiduciary or (2) salaries or wages of $600 or more shall make returns on Forms 1096 and 1099, except that the making of such returns will not be required with respect to salary or wage payments included on Form W-2, provided copies of withholding statements on Form W-2 are furnished. If a portion of such salary or wage payments was reported on a Withholding Statement (Form W-2), only the remainder must be reported on Form 1099.

I. (2) Information regarding dissolution or liquidation.—Every corporation shall, within 30 days after the adoption by the corporation of a resolution or plan for the dissolution of the corporation or for the liquidation of the whole or any part of its capital stock, render a correct return on Form 966 setting forth the terms of such resolution or plan.

Every corporation making distributions in liquidation of the whole or any part of its capital stock shall also make returns on Forms 1096 and 1099L, as required by instructions on Form 1096, for the calendar year 1959.

I. (3) Information regarding renegotiable contracts.—Every corporation which held, during the taxable year, contracts or subcontracts which were subject to the Renegotiation Act of 1951 shall, in answer to question E, page 3, state the actual or, if not accurately determinable, its best estimate of the aggregate gross dollar amount billed during the current taxable year under all contracts and/or subcontracts.

J. Stock ownership in foreign corporations.—A corporation owning any stock of a foreign corporation must attach a statement showing the name and address of each company and the total number of shares of each class of outstanding stock owned during the taxable year. If the corporation owned 5 percent or more in value of the outstanding stock of a foreign personal holding company, attach a statement setting forth in complete detail the information required by section 551 (d).

K. Balance sheets.—The balance sheets, Schedule L, should agree with the books of account or any differences should be reconciled. All corporations reporting to the Interstate Commerce Commission or to any national, State, municipal, or other public offices, may submit, in lieu of Schedule L, copies of their balance sheets prescribed by such authorities as at the beginning and end of the taxable year.

Line 11, Schedule L, should show land less any accumulated amortization of the land as an emergency facility under the authority of sections 124 and 124A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 or section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

L. Net operating loss and other deductions.—The deduction for net operating losses provided by section 172 and the Special Deductions provided in Part VIII (except section 248) of subchapter B, shall not be allowed to an electing small business corporation. (Section 1373 (d).)

M. Attachments may be used in the preparation of your return and supplemental schedules, provided they contain all of the required information and that summarized totals of the items shown in the attachments are entered on the return and schedules.

N. Total assets.—Enter the total assets as of the end of the taxable year as shown on line 14, Schedule L. In the event there are no assets at the end of the year, show total assets at the beginning of the year.

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

(Numbered to correspond with line numbers on page 1 of return)

1. Gross receipts.—Include all income derived from your trade or business. Enter in the space provided such items as returned sales, rebates, allowances from the sale price or service charge.

2. Cost of goods sold.—If the production, manufacture, purchase, or sale of merchandise is an income-determining factor in the trade or business, inventories of merchandise on hand should be taken at the beginning and end of the taxable year, and may be valued at cost, or at cost or market, whichever is lower, or by any other permissible method.

An inventory method once properly adopted is controlling until permission to change is obtained from the Commissioner. Application for permission to change an inventory method shall be made in writing and filed with the Commissioner within 90 days after the beginning of the taxable year in which it is desired to effect a change. In case the inventories reported do not agree with the balance sheet, attach a statement explaining the difference.

A corporation electing to use the last-in, first-out method of valuing inventory provided for in section 472 must file Form 970 with the return for the first year of the election. Thereafter, attach separate schedule showing: (1) a summary of all inventories; (2) with respect to any inventories computed under section 472, the computation of the quantities and cost by acquisition levels.

5. Interest.—Enter the total interest from Schedule C. For provisions relating to amortizable bond premium, see section 171.

Non-interest-bearing obligations issued at a discount.—Taxpayers on the cash basis may elect, as to all non-interest-bearing obligations issued at a discount and redeemable for fixed amounts increasing at stated intervals (for example, United States Savings Bonds), to include the increase in redemption price applicable to the current year. For the year of election the total increase in redemption price of such obligations occurring between the date of acquisition and the end of the year must be included. Attach statement listing obligations owned and computation of the increase. (Section 454.)

6. Rents.—Enter the gross amount received for the rent of property. Any expenses, including repairs, interest, taxes, and depreciation should be included in the proper lines for deductions. In the case of a lease entered into prior to January 1, 1954, if both lessor and lessee are corporations and if under the lease the lessee is obligated to pay any part of the lessor's income tax on the rental payment, this tax is excluded from lessor's gross income and may not be deducted by lessee. (Section 110.)

7. Royalties.—Enter the gross amount received as royalties. If a deduction is claimed for depletion, it must be reported on line 31.

8. Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and other property.—The computation of gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and property other than capital assets should be made on separate Schedule D. Every sale or exchange of property, even though no gain or loss is indicated, must be reported in detail.

9. Other income.—Enter total amount of other income not reported elsewhere in the return and attach schedule showing details, if spaces provided are not sufficient.

13. Rents.—Enter rent paid or accrued for business property in which the corporation has no equity. With respect to leases entered into prior to January 1, 1954, see instruction No. 6.

14. Repairs.—Enter the cost of incidental repairs, including labor, supplies, and other items, which do not add to the value or appreciably prolong the life of the property. Expenditures for new buildings, machinery, equipment, or for permanent improvements or betterments which increase the value of the property are chargeable to capital account.

15. Bad debts.—Bad debts may be treated in either of two ways—(1) by a deduction from income in respect of debts which become worthless in whole or in part, or (2) by a deduction from income of a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. (Section 166.) No change of method is allowed without permission of the Commissioner.

16. Interest.—Enter interest paid or accrued on business indebtedness. Do not include in line 16 interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations (other than obligations of the United States issued after September 24, 1917, and originally subscribed for by the taxpayer) the interest on which is wholly exempt from income tax. (Section 265.)

See section 267 for limitation on deductions for unpaid expenses and interest in the case of transactions between related taxpayers.

17. Taxes.—Enter taxes paid or accrued during the taxable year. Do not include Federal income, war-profits, and excess-profits taxes; estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes; Federal taxes paid on bonds containing a tax-free covenant, nor taxes not imposed upon the taxpayer. See section 164 (d) regarding apportionment of taxes on real property between seller and purchaser.

18. Contributions or gifts paid.—Enter contributions or gifts actually paid within the taxable year to or for the use of organizations and governmental bodies as set forth in 170 (c).

In the case of a corporation on the accrual basis, any contribution or gift will, at the election of the taxpayer, made at the time the return is filed, be considered as paid during the taxable year if payment is actually made on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable year, and if the contribution or gift has during the taxable year been authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. A copy of such authorization must be attached to the return.

Any contributions paid during the taxable year in excess of the amount deductible may be carried over and deducted in the two succeeding taxable years subject to the 5-percent limitation provided in section 170 (b) (2).

19. Losses by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty, or theft.—Enter losses sustained during the year, arising from fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty. For determination of the amount deductible, see section 165 (b) and the regulations thereunder. Theft losses are deductible only in the year in which discovered.

20. Amortization.—If a deduction is claimed on account of amortization, attach a detailed statement. The law makes special provisions for amortization of the following kinds of assets and expenditures:

- (a) Emergency facilities—Section 168;
- (b) Grain storage facilities—Section 169;
- (c) Research and experimental expenditures—Section 174;
- (d) Exploration expenditures—Section 615;
- (e) Development expenditures—Section 616;
- (f) Organizational expenses—Section 248; and
- (g) Trademark and tradename expenditures—Section 177.

For details concerning the information which must be furnished in the statements of election required by these sections, consult your District Director.

21. Depreciation.—If a deduction is claimed on account of depreciation, fill in Schedule I. A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business or of property held by the taxpayer for the production of income shall be allowed as a depreciation deduction. (Section 167.) The allowance does not apply to inventories or stock-in-trade nor to land apart from the improvements or physical developments added to it. Depreciation on leasehold improvements, patents, and copyrights shall be included in Schedule I.

The useful life of an asset can be measured in units of production, etc., but the ordinary practice is to measure useful life in years. Business experience, engineering information, and other relevant factors provide a reasonable basis for estimating the useful life of property to the taxpayer. The cost (or other basis) to be recovered should be charged off over the expected useful life of the property. For guidance, comprehensive tables of "average useful lives" of various kinds of buildings, machines, and equipment in many industries and businesses have been published in a booklet called Bulletin F, which may be purchased for 30 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

(a) Special rules for new assets acquired after December 31, 1953.—The cost or other basis of an asset acquired after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper in the past; or, it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided (1) that the asset is tangible, (2) that it has an estimated useful life of three years or more, and (3) that the original use of the asset commenced with the taxpayer and commenced after December 31, 1953. If an asset is constructed, reconstructed, or erected by the taxpayer, so much of the basis of the asset as is attributable to construction, reconstruction, or erection after December 31, 1953, may be depreciated under methods proper in the past; or, it may be depreciated under any of the following methods provided that the asset meets qualifications (1) and (2) above.

- 1. Declining balance method, using a rate not in excess of twice the applicable straight line method,
- 2. The sum of the years-digit method, and
- 3. Any other consistent method which does not result in accumulated allowances at the end of any year greater than the total of the accumulated allowances which would have resulted from the use of the declining balance method. This limitation applies only during the first two-thirds of the useful life of the property.

(b) Section 179—Additional first-year depreciation allowance.—Corporations may elect to write off in the year of acquisition 20 percent of the cost of tangible personal property having an aggregate value of not more than $10,000. This additional first-year depreciation is allowed in full for the first taxable year for which a deduction is allowable under section 167, regardless of the date of acquisition. The cost of property does not include so much of the basis of such property as is determined by reference to the basis of other property held at any time by the person acquiring such property. This additional depreciation is limited to property acquired after December 31, 1957, with a remaining useful life of 6 years or more. Further, for this allowance to apply in any case, the basis of the property must not be determined in whole or in part by reference to the transferor's basis. Depreciation on the remaining cost of the property may be taken under any of the methods indicated above. The additional first-year depreciation of an asset should be shown on a separate line of the depreciation schedule rather than included on the line used to show the regular depreciation of the asset.

22. Depletion of mines, oil and gas wells, timber, etc.—If a deduction is claimed on account of depletion, procure from the District Director: Form M (mines and other natural deposits), Form O (oil and gas), or Form T (timber), fill in and file with return. If complete valuation data have been filed with questionnaire in previous years, then file with your return information necessary to bring your depletion schedule up to date, setting forth in full statement of all transactions bearing on deductions from or additions to value of physical assets during the taxable year with explanation of how depletion deduction for the taxable year has been determined. (Sections 611, 612, and 613.) Expenditures to be deferred and deducted ratably under the election provided in sections 616 (b), relating to certain expenditures in the development of mines, and 615 (b), relating to deductions for mine exploration, are not to be taken into account in determining the adjusted basis for property for the purpose of computing a deduction for depletion under section 611.

23. Advertising.—Enter on line 23 the total amount paid or incurred during the year for advertising. Expenditures for advertising, to be deductible, must be ordinary and necessary and bear a reasonable relation to the business activities in which the corporation is engaged.

24. (a) Pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity plans.—Enter on line 24 (a) the total amount deductible under section 404. A corporation claiming a deduction under section 404 must submit with its return, in addition to the information specified in the regulations concerning such deduction, a statement with respect to each plan showing the type of plan, i. e., pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity, or other plan deferring the receipt of compensation, whether or not the plan is qualified under section 401 (a), and if trustee, whether or not the trust is exempt under section 501 (a), and the method of funding, i. e., individual annuity or insurance contracts, group annuity contract, group permanent contract, or self-insured trust. If not funded, so indicate. Contributions paid by an employer to or under a pension, profit-sharing, stock bonus, annuity plan or compensation paid or accrued on account of any employee under a plan deferring the receipt of such compensation, are deductible only under section 404, and are not deductible under section 162.

24. (b) Other employee benefit plans.—Enter on line 24 (b) deductions for contributions to employee benefit plans (other than those claimed on line 24 (a)), such as insurance, health, or welfare plans. Submit with the return a schedule for each plan showing (1) the nature of benefits, i. e., group term life insurance, group permanent life insurance, noninsured death benefit, hospitalization, surgical, medical, sickness, accident, major medical expense, unemployment benefit, or other welfare benefits; (2) method of financing, i. e., insured, industry or areawide fund, self-insured fund, or direct benefit payments; (3) the amount of deduction; (4) the amount of employee contributions; (5) the number of employees covered; and (6) if a self-insured plan, the amount of benefits paid during the taxable year. Also show the number of employees employed by the corporation.

25. Other deductions authorized by law.—Enter on line 25 any other authorized deductions for which no space is provided on the return. (See General Instruction L.) Any deduction claimed should be explained in Schedule J.

No deduction is allowable for the amount of any item or part thereof allocable to a class of exempt income other than interest. For non-allowance of interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry tax-exempt securities, see instruction 16. Items directly attributable to wholly exempt income shall be allocated thereto, and items directly attributable to any class of taxable income shall be allocated to such taxable income. If an item is indirectly, attributable both to taxable income and exempt income, a reasonable proportion thereof, determined in the light of all the facts and circumstances in each case, shall be allocated to each. A taxpayer receiving any such exempt income, or holding any property or engaging in any activity the income from which is exempt shall submit with its return as a part thereof an itemized statement, in detail, showing (1) the amount of each class of exempt income, and (2) the amount of expense items allocated to each such class (the amount allocated by apportionment being shown separately).

Schedule K. Shareholder's Share of Income.—The schedule of Distribution and Income should show complete information with respect to all the persons who were shareholders of the corporation during any portion of the taxable year. Under the tax treatment provided by Subchapter S, shareholders generally are taxable upon their distributive shares of the current taxable income of the corporation, whether or not actually distributed. Since each shareholder is required to include his share in his individual return, he should be furnished the information applicable to him.

Column 1.—Enter the name and address of each shareholder. Where return of shareholder is filed in an internal revenue district other than that which this return is filed, specify district.

Column 2.—Enter the number of shares of stock owned by each shareholder. If the number of shares owned by a shareholder changed during the year, show separately the number of shares held for each period.

Column 3.—Enter the percentage of time devoted to the business by each shareholder.

Column 4.—Enter salary and other payments to each shareholder for services rendered.

Column 5.—Enter for each shareholder the date and amount of each dividend distribution made in money or property, during the taxable year.

Column 6.—Enter for each shareholder who was a shareholder on the last day of the corporation's taxable year, his portion of the corporation's undistributed taxable income. A shareholder's portion of the undistributed taxable income is the amount which he would have received as a dividend if such income had been distributed pro rata to the shareholders on the last day of the corporation's taxable year. A dividend distribution of property other than money may cause line 3 to exceed the total of column 6.

In the case of a net operating loss for the taxable year, enter in this column for each shareholder who was a shareholder at any time during the corporation's taxable year his pro rata share of the loss. For treatment of, determination of, and limitation on a shareholder's pro rata share of such loss, see section 1374 and the regulations thereunder.

Column 7.—Enter for each shareholder his pro rata share of the corporation's excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss (line 8b, page 1). Each shareholder is entitled to treat as long-term capital gain a portion of the sum of the dividends he received plus his share of the constructive dividends derived from the undistributed taxable income. A shareholder's portion is determined by applying to such excess the same ratio that the amount of his dividends (actual or constructive) which are out of earnings and profits of the current year bears to the total dividends (actual or constructive) includible by all shareholders from the same source. In making the allocation, the excess of net long-term capital gain over short-term capital loss can not exceed taxable income (line 27, page 1). The amount entered here should be reported on Schedule D of his individual income tax return as a long-term capital gain from an "electing small business corporation."

Column 8.—Enter in this column for each shareholder the amount of money or property includible in the income of the shareholder as dividends from the small business corporation which are entitled to the dividends received exclusion provided in section 116 and the credit provided by section 34. Of the amounts includible in the gross income of a shareholder as dividends from an electing small business corporation, only those which are not considered to be out of the earnings and profits of the taxable year are entitled to the dividends received exclusion and credit. For purposes of this rule the earnings and profits of the taxable year are deemed not to exceed the taxable income for the year. The dividends entitled to the exclusion and credit would include, for example, dividends paid out of accumulated earnings and profits and from interest on tax exempt securities. The amounts shown in this column should be entered by the shareholders in Schedule A of their individual income tax returns, Forms 1040.

Column 9.—Enter in this column for each shareholder the sum of the dividends actually distributed (column 5) and the constructive dividends derived from undistributed taxable income (column 6), less the sum of the amount treated as long-term capital gain (column 7) and the amount of dividends entitled to the dividends received exclusion and credit (column 8). The amounts shown in this column should be entered by the shareholders as ordinary income in Schedule H of their individual income tax returns, Forms 1040.

Column 10.—Enter in this column for each shareholder the date and the amount of each distribution of money and property not out of earnings and profits. For taxable years after the first taxable year to which the election applies, include any distribution of accumulated undistributed taxable income. See section 1375 (d).

GENERAL INFORMATION

1. A net operating loss for any taxable year shall be allowed as a deduction from gross income of the shareholders in the manner and to the extent set forth in section 1374.

2. For treatment of family groups, see section 1375 (c).

3. For the adjustment to basis of stock of, and indebtedness owing to, shareholders, see section 1376.

4. For special rules applying to earnings and profits, see section 1377.
